Howdy Week: A Show Down At Raiderville

It was 11:00 a.m. and the sun was high. The halls were quiet and no one but the daring were out. Time ticked by slowly. The clocks seemed to be standing still. Then the bell rang out and the sound of trampling feet filled the once silent corridors of Southwest High. The show-down of howdy week at Raiderville had begun.

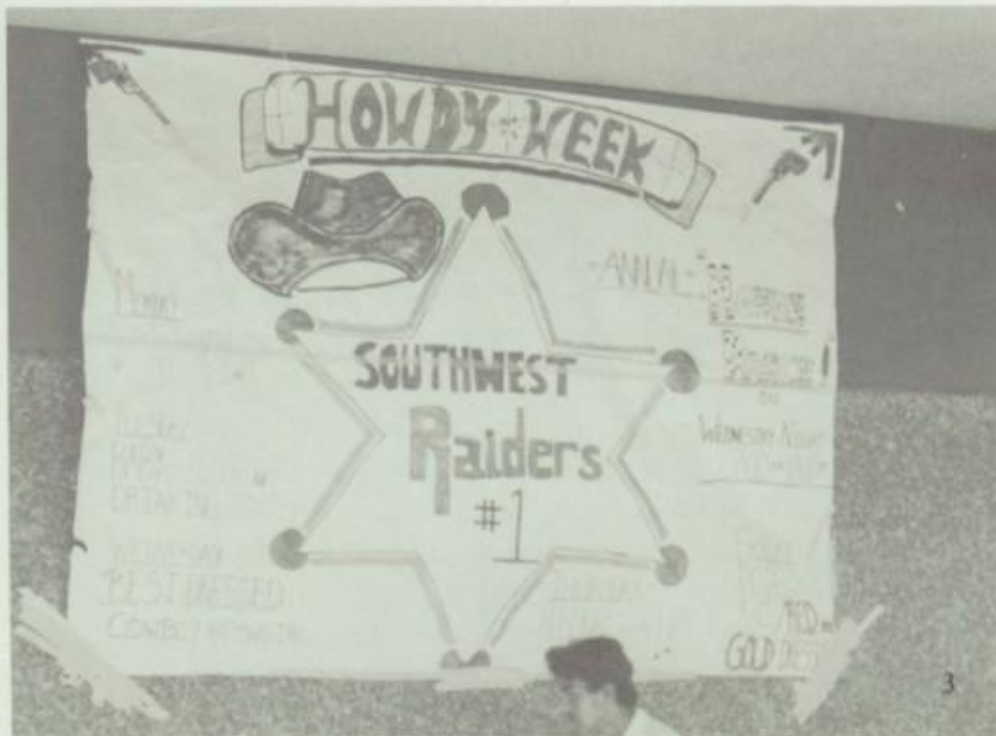

That was the beginning of a week long escapade to encourage students of Southwest High to show their spirit and participate in the week's upcoming activities. The response was overwhelming, considering it was the second week of school and the new students to Southwest High had just begun to get used to the strange and different ways of the returning student body.

The week's activities were held during the lunch hour and nothing was impossible. On Monday, the festivities got under way with a wet and soggy water-balloon throwing contest. That was nothing compared to the wild and crazy apple cider baby bottle drinking contest on Tuesday. The cowboy/cowgirl dress-up day, Wednesday, was a big success. Practically everyone showed some spirit by putting on their western duds, even though some went slightly overboard. Thursday was supposed to be nickel in the hay day, but unfortunately someone had stolen the hay. Friday, however, was the big day of the week and the final day of craziness with the ever famous potato race.

The week was full of fun and spirit, and the winner of the events was the class that's second to none, the Class of 1981. Even with the silliness, the purpose of the week had been fulfilled and new acquaintances had been made.

1. Gladys Bedoya shows her spirit by dressing up for cowboy/cowgirl day. 2. Jeanne Curtis moseys through Raiderville during lunchtime. 3. The Howdy Week poster describes the festivities for the week. 4. Some eager sophomores wait for the lunchtime activities to begin. 5. Jesus Villa flashes a "howdy grin" to show his spirit on cowboy dress-up day. 6. Cowgirl Elsa Flores rescues defenseless Gloria Albaran from the ever dreaded homework. 7. Jeanne Browning didn't dress up, but gives us a friendly smile anyway.

Homecoming 1980 When Dreams Come True

Homecoming 1980 was a time for dreams to come true, especially for five lucky young ladies. Gloria Albaran, Georgia Blanco, Jeanne Browning, Elizabeth Commandante, and Sandy Minor were the five candidates elected to the Homecoming Court. These girls, when elected, started realizing their dream of being crowned Homecoming Queen. Even though they knew that only one girl could be crowned, the spirit, enthusiasm, and butterflies were flying high.

The candidates were not the only people who were excited. It seemed that the whole school was buzzing with the anticipation of Homecoming. The band, drill team, letterettes, and tall flags worked hard to put on a good performance during the halftime show. The present cheerleaders welcomed back the alumni cheerleaders, while the football team practiced long and hard to prepare themselves for the game against Montgomery.

With the support of the student body and faculty, the spirit and enthusiasm reached new heights at the pep assembly, and finally the dream of Homecoming came true to the explosion of fireworks and the sound of applause.

1. Anne Odermatt takes her last walk as the reigning Homecoming Queen of 1979. 2. The Homecoming court for 1980 is: Gloria Albaran, Georgia Blanco, Jeanne Browning, Elizabeth Comandante, and Sandy Minor. 3. Mr. Richards and Ms. Lindstrom strut their stuff as one of the Homecoming court couples in the faculty skit. 4. Alumni cheerleaders prove that they still can move. 5. Tony Leyva and Tony Holter are Southwest's "Urban Romans". 6. The J. V. cheerleaders express their spirit at the Homecoming '80 football game. 7. The mighty Raider team fires up for the second half by attacking the run through. 8. The powder puff cheerleaders let it all hang out and create a mass of confusion.

Homecoming Week: "One In A Million"

"One in a Million" was a most appropriate theme for the 1980 Homecoming, and for the newly crowned Homecoming Queen, Elizabeth Comandante, it was a dream come true. This was a special night for all Raiders, a night of glitter, bright lights, and fireworks; a truly exciting event. It was a time to show spirit and enthusiasm. It brought back old Raiders and friends who had left us behind in order to move ahead. There was an abundance of "hello's and "nice to see you's," and faces that were strange, yet vaguely familiar. It was definitely a time for renewing lost friendships and reminiscing.

October 17, 1980 will prove to be one of those fond remembrances that will stand out when we look back to our days at Southwest High.

1. One of the new styles at Southwest High is totally punk. 2. Jeanne Browning is caught in the act of scheming devilish things. 3. Coach Balough gives Ed Kelly a final word before he sends him back in. 4. After being crowned Queen, Elizabeth Comandante admires the fireworks from afar. 5. Vicki Stovall kicks off for the start of the powder puff football game. 6. The Raiderettes and Letterettes can finally relax after a long halftime show. 7. It's a new dance style, as demonstrated by a true punker. 8. Mr. Raue goes all out for Homecoming Queen of the faculty. 9. Ron Penn and Gloria Albaran size things up. 10. It's the seniors versus the juniors as the powder puff game continues.

Actors Open With An Evening Of Drama

As the lights dimmed and the audience settled, the excitement grew behind the stage and the first play for 1980 got under way. Under the direction of Mrs. Rebecca Vroom, five scenes were performed. These scenes included "Barefoot In The Park," "The Crucible," "Squaring The Circle," "All My Sons," and "God's Favorite."

"Barefoot In The Park", by Neil Simon, showed a newly wedded couple, just back from their honeymoon to find that the apartment they had just purchased was not exactly what they wanted. Corrie (Lisa Ross) tried to convince her husband Paul (Hans Heidepeter) that after a few minor repairs the apartment would be just perfect. Paul who had his very first case in court as a lawyer, the next day, was not concerned about how it would be in the future. His main concern was how he was going to get a good night's sleep to be able to defend his case in court.

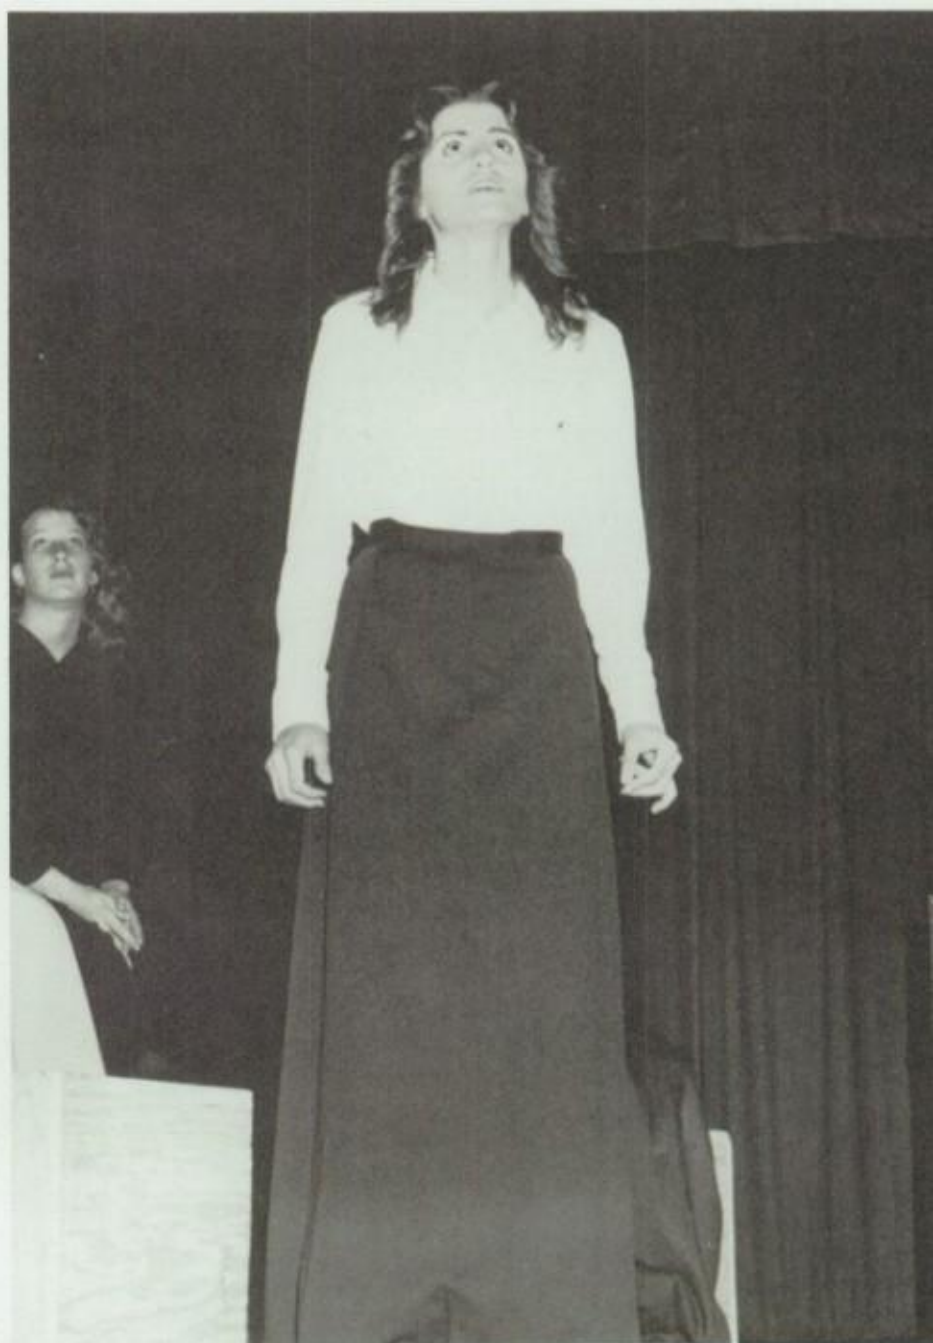

"The Crucible", by Arthur Miller, was about Governor Danforth (Mike Thomas) who had come to investigate the charges of witchcraft that had been brought by Abigail Williams (Stephani Zacharoff) and her band of hysterical girls. Mary Warren (Jana Glaser), one of the hysterical girls, confessed that the bewitched behavior was all pretend, but quickly withdrew when Abigail accused Mary of assuming the shape of a yellow bird.

"Squaring The Circle", by Valentin Kayayev, was a comedy which took place in Moscow, Russia. It showed a crowded one room apartment in which Ludmilla (Delfina Tagle) displayed her garish taste while Vasya (Jay Sisk) was being smothered with teenie weenie little kisses on the nose.

"All My Sons," by Arthur Miller, was about a love affair between Chris Keller (Robert Howarth) and Ann Deever (Susan Sorensen). Because of Ann's past relationship with Cris' older brother Larry, who was missing in action, brought conflict between Chris and his mother Mrs. Keller, (Robin Hill) who was still waiting for the return of her beloved son Larry.

Another of Neil Simon's comedies was "God's Favorite" where Joe Benjamin (Jim Hine) and Sarah and Ben Benjamin (Delfina Tagle/Robert Howarth) were awakened by the piercing sound of the burglar alarm. Through the mass confusion of checking for the burglar, they discovered that the burglar must have been almost blind because of the inch thick glasses that were found outside. Then to try and calm everyone down, Joe assured them that they were safe and told them to go to bed. Minutes later David Benjamin (David Fox) entered the house, intoxicated as usual, and tripped the burglar alarm again, thus once more causing mass confusion at the Benjamin household.

Two of the scenes, "God's Favorite" and "The Crucible" were chosen to represent Southwest High at the Scenes Festival on December 6, 1980 at Southwestern College. The performances by all the actors and actresses were excellent, thus both scenes did extremely well in competition.

Sweethearts': Making Dreams Come True . . . "Together"

The atmosphere was set for a perfect evening of dancing and being with a special certain someone. The Sweethearts' Dance of 1981 had a lasting effect on the people who attended.

The Cafe de Rey Moro, in Balboa Park, was an appropriate setting for the dreams that came true for many. The reality of Sweethearts' was more than one girl could imagine. For Mae Patron, it was a night that will be long remembered. The dream of being crowned Sweethearts' Queen had become real.

The Sweethearts' Dance, sponsored by the Mecha Club, was an overall success. The band, Reality, played a variety of songs and kept the Raiders dancing through the night. The excitement was felt throughout the ballroom and everyone appeared to be having a great time.

Upon the close of the evening, spirits were still high and the Mecha Club felt the satisfaction of the Sweethearts' Dance being a total success.

39 Alive And Paul Bloom Fly Into Southwest High

Tuesday, March 3, 1981 was an exciting day for the Annual, Journalism, Media & Film, and Creative Writing classes at Southwest High. That day was when three members of Newscenter 39 Alive visited Southwest High.

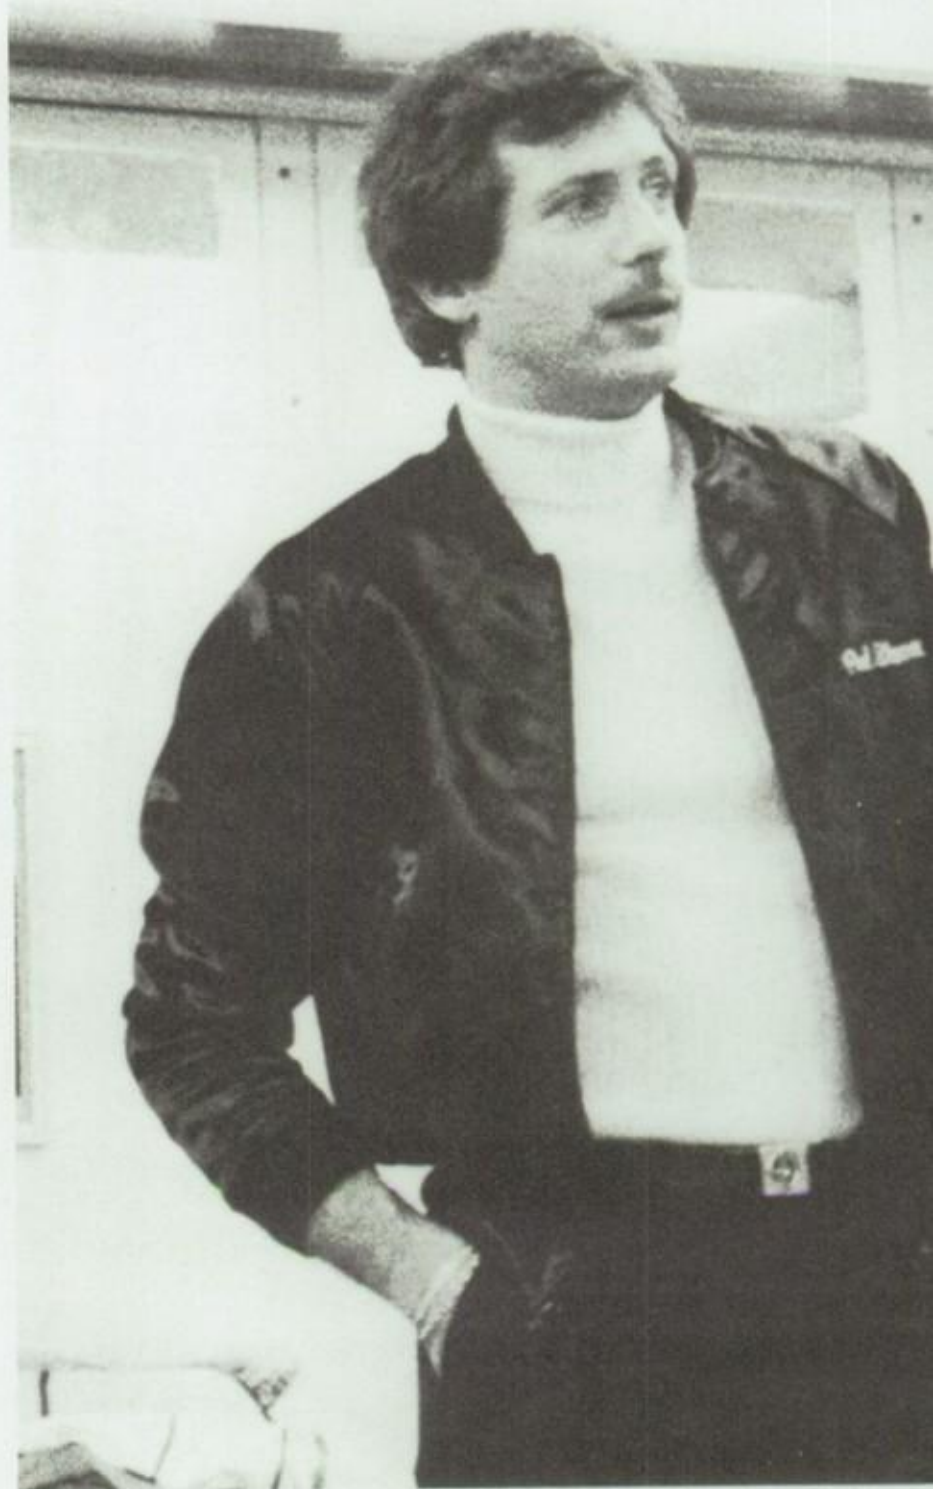

Paul Bloom, anchorman on Newscenter 39, explained about how to become an anchorperson on the news. He described the dedication that was needed and the not so glamorous jobs starting out as a reporter. He said that the work was exciting and full of adventure. Mr. Bloom also expressed that a job should be enjoyable and something that you want to spend the rest of your life doing.

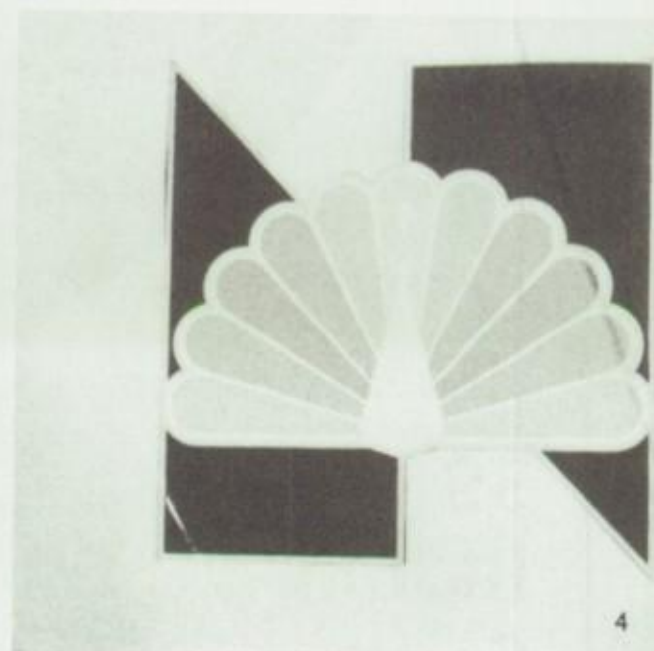

Robert Pettee, the pilot of Newscopter 39, explained the operations and controls of the helicopter. He demonstrated a few of his flying skills and talked about his rescue, and his experience with flying.

Mr. Pettee was given an award for bravery by the sheriff for his rescue of Eric Enell off of Palomar Mountain. He showed tremendous courage and great emotional strength and skill.

Daniel Diaz, photographer for Newscenter 39, explained how to operate cameras both in the studio and out. He demonstrated some of his techniques of capturing a variety of angles and talked about the equipment that was always being made for the advancement of the camera.

All of these men took extreme pride in their jobs and felt honored to be invited to Southwest High in order to tell others about their occupations.

1. Newscopter 39 flies into Southwest High. 2. Paul Bloom explains to his audience about T.V. reporting. 3. Mr. Robert H. Pettee, Jr., pilot of the Newscopter 39, poses proudly with his Raider hat and helicopter. 4. Southwest High and NBC are proud as a peacock. 5. Cheryl LeBlanc listens carefully to the explanation of how the controls work. 6. Daniel Diaz talks about his camera and being a news photographer. 7. Paul Bloom exits from the landing helicopter to meet the waiting Southwest Raiders.

Southwest High Takes Their Spirit Back To Happy Days

As Southwest High turned back the hands of time we noticed that the spirit of the "Happy Days" era was re-born. The Raiders who dressed for the 50's and 60's Day showed their spirit. They put their seriousness aside and donned their old poodle skirts, sweatshirts, pearls, miniskirts, and boots. Everyone who participated had his/her own idea of what the fashion was back in the 1950's and the 1960's.

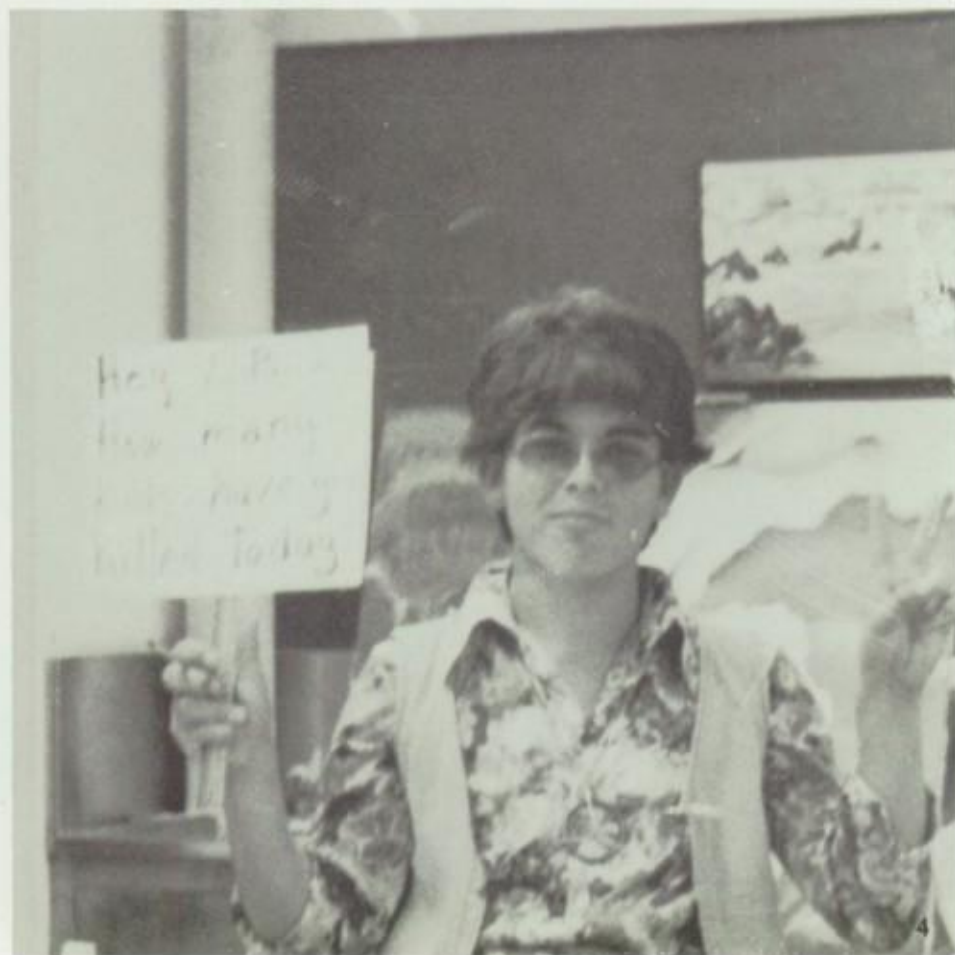

The fashion of the 1950's was basically the style of today but there will always be a definite distinction between the two "eras". The hairstyles of the 50's have changed. Poodle skirts and "the Fonz" look is gone, but the style of the 50's had left an impression on the 1980's.

The more daring Raiders were the ones who dressed 60's style. Some went the way of hippies protesting war, dressed in brightly colored ragged outfits, and playing guitars. Others dressed in miniskirts and boots to portray the go-go dancing fad of the 60's.

All in all it was a day to relive what we thought were the "Happy Days". A time to look back and most of all, a day to have fun.

1. Gerry Goodman didn't dress up, but found 50's and 60's day to be a good opportunity to wear her skates. 2. Cindy Bass, Patty Bass, and Mae Patron show their spirit with a bouffant, ponytail, and smiles. 3. Evonne Michel and Margie Torres listen to the tunes on the radio. 4. Miguel Reyes stages a demonstration for peace.

Cheerleaders: The Spirit Of Southwest

The 1980-81 Southwest cheerleaders started the year ready to spread their spirit and pride. They brought back to Southwest, from the United Spirit Association Cheerleading Camp in Santa Barbara, one of the highest awards given. They captured the spirit stick twice and brought it back to show Southwest that the cheerleaders for 1980-81 were ready for this year.

The cheerleaders did alot more than just cheering at games and assemblies. They put in many hours of hard work on cheers, mounts, partner stunts, posters, and fund raisers to prepare for the football and basketball seasons. The money that was raised went towards paying for the Varsity and Junior Varsity uniforms.

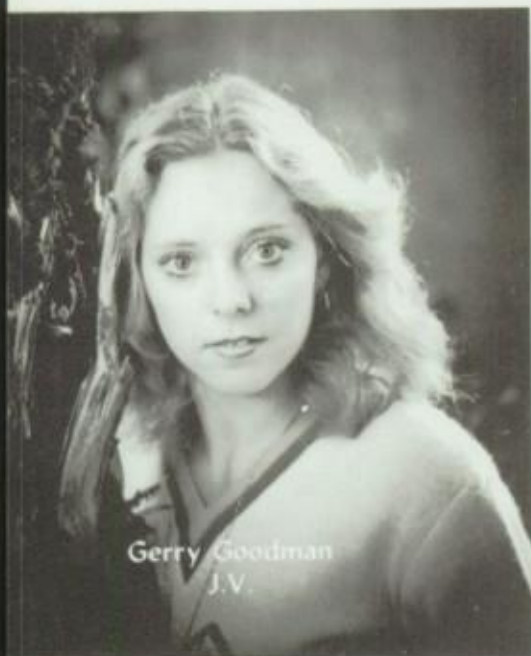

With help from their advisor, Mrs. Daria Kieswetter, and the Varsity captain, Cheryl LeBanc, new cheers were made up and new moves made to old cheers to add variety. In addition to preparing for football and basketball games, they also performed at every pep rally and after the football victory over Bonita Vista, they put on a skit to the football team's "theme song," "Another One Bites the Dust."

With all that was expected of the cheerleaders they never forgot why they were there. They continued to show and spread their spirit and pride throughout the school and the year.

1. Nitza Lipp listens to the crowd repeat a cheer. 2. Gerry Goodman and Evonn Kahn practice their basketball skill instead of cheers before the game. 3. Lis Harvey checks to see if she is doing the right cheer. 4. The J.V. squad reaches new heights. 5. The cheerleaders demonstrate how "another one bites the dust." 6. Playing a Bonita Vista Baron, Lisa Harvey is tackled by Raider Angel Lopez. 7. Gloria Albaran shows her spirit by being the last to leave an assembly. 8. Cheryl LeBlanc thinks that cleaning up run-throughs is something to laugh about.

Besides sponsoring activities, the

A.S.B. also sold school supplies, concessions and tickets to various school events. These helped finance the activities and needs of the school. The people acting as the Senate made decisions and discussed matters which concerned the student body.

Capture Time

The 1980-81 Scimitar Staff accomplished an unparalleled achievement in capturing the life and times of the Raiders of Southwest High. They worked hard to put together another year of Raider history for all to remember for years to come.

With the addition of many new members and advisor, Mrs. Nevinger, the staff still managed to keep the meaning of their existence alive in their work. They kept it alive by capturing and preserving the events in our school that helped to shape and mold us in our final years of high school.

Raiders Reflect

As the days drifted out of our grasp, the Raider Reflections' staff did a tremendous job in capturing and voicing the ideas and happenings at Southwest. With the help of the advisor, Mrs. Syverson, the staff put out many interesting issues as well as special class editions. Led by the Editor-in-Chief, Jeanne Browning, the staff worked hard to produce what they felt the students wanted and needed to see. Other supportive and dedicated staffers included news editors Valerie Romero and Rick Pinter. These two were among the many members who devoted their time to make the 1980-81 "Reflections" newspaper the best in Raider history.

Band, Tall Flags And Letterettes Join Forces

As the Southwest High Raider Band rounded the corner of Mar Vista's football field for the half-time show of the first home game, the crowd noticed a change. Instead of being a small eleven member band, Southwest had grown to a 50 member band with letterettes and tall flags. To the Raiders, this was a sign of a growing and expanding school.

The letterettes, with their captain, Linda Garcia, marched in front of the band. The letterettes were not a new thing for Southwest, but for the past three or four years they have been extinct. Now they have returned to show their spirit and to be a part of the Raider Band.

Southwest High's tall flags, under the direction of Liz Saracho, have put in many hours of practice in order to give top quality performances. Along with the letterettes the tall flags added pizzazz and show to the selections played by the band. They performed at half-times, assemblies, and participated in parades and competitions with the band, letterettes, and drill team.

With Mr. Ben Ubovich in charge and Michelle Meza the drum major leading, the band has done excellent jobs everytime they performed. They competed in several competitions and appeared in many parades. Even though the band in general was still considered small it gave the enthusiasm needed at football games, assemblies, and basketball games.

The band, letterettes, tall flags, and drill team were definitely spirit raisers. They were always ready to help cheer Southwest to victory and play the Alma Mater after home football and basketball games. Even when we did not win, to show the pride that they had in their school, they would try to raise the morale with the playing of the Fight Song of Southwest High.

Drill Team High Steps Their Way To Victory

Although the 1980-81 drill team decreased in size from last year, the quality of their performance continued to improve. With their captain, Janice Thatcher, and advisor, Mrs. Pam Chilton, the drill team put in many hours of hard work on their routines. Their routines were all original and made to be performed with the band when they marched down the street in a parade or across the football field at a halftime show.

The Southwest High Raiderettes have participated in several parades and competitions. Some of these include the U.C.L.A. Band Day, the Columbus Day Parade, the Autumn Band Review, the Band Pageant, the Yuletide Parade, the Chula Vista Band Review, and the Oceanside Band Parade in which they received first place. They also put on excellent halftime shows at the home football games and entertaining routines at pep rallies.

Through all of their effort and hard work the Southwest High Raiderettes finished their last competition on a good note. The drill team and band both took first place at the Oceanside Competition, thus giving them their best season ever.

Fine Arts Explode

Southwest's Choir and Estudiantina, both led by Mrs. Couch, exploded with talent this year. The Choir's president, Angie Sanchez, and pianist Jay Hermosura, were only a small portion of the surging talent waiting to be heard. The highlight of the Choir's year was performing at Palm Springs.

The Estudiantina, with President Marcia Castro, was also overflowing with talent. Performing at Southwestern College and Chula Vista Shopping Center was only a small portion of the many performances that were given.

ROTC Marches Into Action

The beginning of each school year for the Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps (NJROTC), brings new members and new challenges. Each member adds strength and promise to the group, knowing that they will benefit from the many activities that are planned. An event which will never be forgotten was when Rosa Lopez and Oscar Lucero ate breakfast with the Blue Angels Precision Flying Team.

New members brought new challenges and goals to the Flying Eagles Male Drill Team. Teaching, learning, and cooperating were all a part of the drill team's performance.

Pan-Asian

One of the ethnic clubs on campus was the Pan-Asian Club which was open to everyone. It dealt with the Pan-Asian culture. This group sponsored many activities on campus, the most successful being the Pan-Asian Christmas Dance.

The club consisted of about 21 members including the advisor Mr. Tom Foster, and the club officers, President Elvie Dayrit, Vice-President Donna Bernardo, Secretary Eileen Suarez, and Treasurer Joyce Temporal.

The Pan-Asian Club met on every Thursday in Mr. Foster's room and was a big contributor to the spirit of Southwest High.

Another ethnic club on campus was the Mecha Club. The Mecha Club had approximately 15 members devoted to the learning and understanding of the Mexican-American people and the Mexican Culture.

With their advisor, Mr. Tony Hernandez, the club sponsored the Sweethearts' Dance and participated in many flowers and candy sales to raise money for their club.

President Kathy Caballero ran and held the Mecha Club meetings on Wednesday in Mr. Hernandez' room where they planned new activities for Southwest High.

Pep Club

The Pep Club with Advisor Mrs. Daria Kieswetter and President Janie Carpenter worked hard on the spirit of Southwest High. They promoted spirit in the school by making posters, locker decorations, learning cheers, and thinking of new and creative ways to promote spirit.

The Pep Club met every Thursday and Friday to organize future sales for the club and to get the students more involved in school. The Pep Club showed their involvement by going to football and basketball games and helping the cheerleaders by participating in the cheers.

The biggest and newest club at Southwest High was the rock-n-roll club Rush, which stood for Rockers United Southwest High. Not only being the biggest and newest club, Rush was also the most active.

The Rush Club with Ms. Sue Lindstrom, advisor, raised a lot of money from sales and fund raisers. But their biggest and most successful fund raiser was their Super Fantasy Night at Sea World Dance. Included with the dance was the Sparkletts' Underwater Show.

They also showed their enthusiasm by participating in all club activities.

DRAMA CLUB: 1st row: Stephani Zacharoff, 2nd row: David Fox, Miguel Reyes; 3rd row: Rick Arcolas, Lisa Ross, and Mike Bedford.

As the curtain opened and the lights brightened we saw the Drama Club hard at work planning fund raisers and sales for the future. They also chose their next performance.

The Drama Club and classes performed the plays "God's Favorite," "The Crucible," "All My Son's," "Barefoot In the Park," "Squaring The Circle," and "The Doctor In Spite Of Himself." They took three of these plays to the Scenes Festival and the One Act Play Festival competitions and did very well at both.

CSF was a club on campus that was based on the students' grades. CSF, which stands for the California Scholarship Federation, was open to the students who could meet the requirements set by the club in certain classes. If a student was able to join CSF and did so for four or more semesters then that student would graduate from high school with honors, which was signified by a white cap and gown, and ropes.

CSF also spent a lot of time with fund raisers and activities that would raise enough money for the annual CSF night at Disneyland and the two day fieldtrip to Los Angeles.

Knowledge Bowl was a club for people who could think fast and use their brains at all times. These people competed against other schools. Questions were asked for a certain amount of points. The first school or team to press their buzzers and answer the question correctly received the points. If a team should buzz in and answer the question incorrectly then the other team had a free shot at answering the question.

The club worked hard on quizzing all team members on trivia questions in preparation for competition.

KNOWLEDGE BOWL: Bob Bullock, Mrs. Charlette Hayes.

Knowledge Bowl

MESA was the Mathematics, Engineering, Science Achievement Program designed to help minority students in their quest for higher education. MESA aided students with math and science based career goals such as engineering.

Throughout the year it offered its members field trips, career days, and guest speakers.

Helping the group through the year were advisors Frank Holmes, Mike Mellon, and Thomas Foster.

MESA CLUB: 1st row: Jay Hermosura, Joanne Farle, Ramon Saracho, Patty Cortez, Rosa Laguna, Jerri Rincon, Beatrice Amador, Juan Cutilas, Jerry Fernandez; 2nd row: Ursula Hymes,

Golden Girls

Patton, Doreen Urban, Marsi Miller; 3rd row: Anabel Sorral, Sharla Walton.

The Golden Girls Club was a group of girls that gave their time to learn how to take stats and keep score and time in wrestling. These girls also helped Mr. Harold Richards, the Varsity coach, and Mr. Carvin Stone, the Junior Varsity coach. They attended all of the wrestling matches and were extremely important to the running of the matches. They had to learn how the scoring system of wrestling worked for takedowns, escapes, and pins, etc. . . .

Modern Language

The Modern Language Club was a club that dealt with foreign languages and foreign countries. The group learned about the far away lands from their advisor Mr. Eric Williams who showed them slides that he had taken and demonstrated many of the different languages that were used.

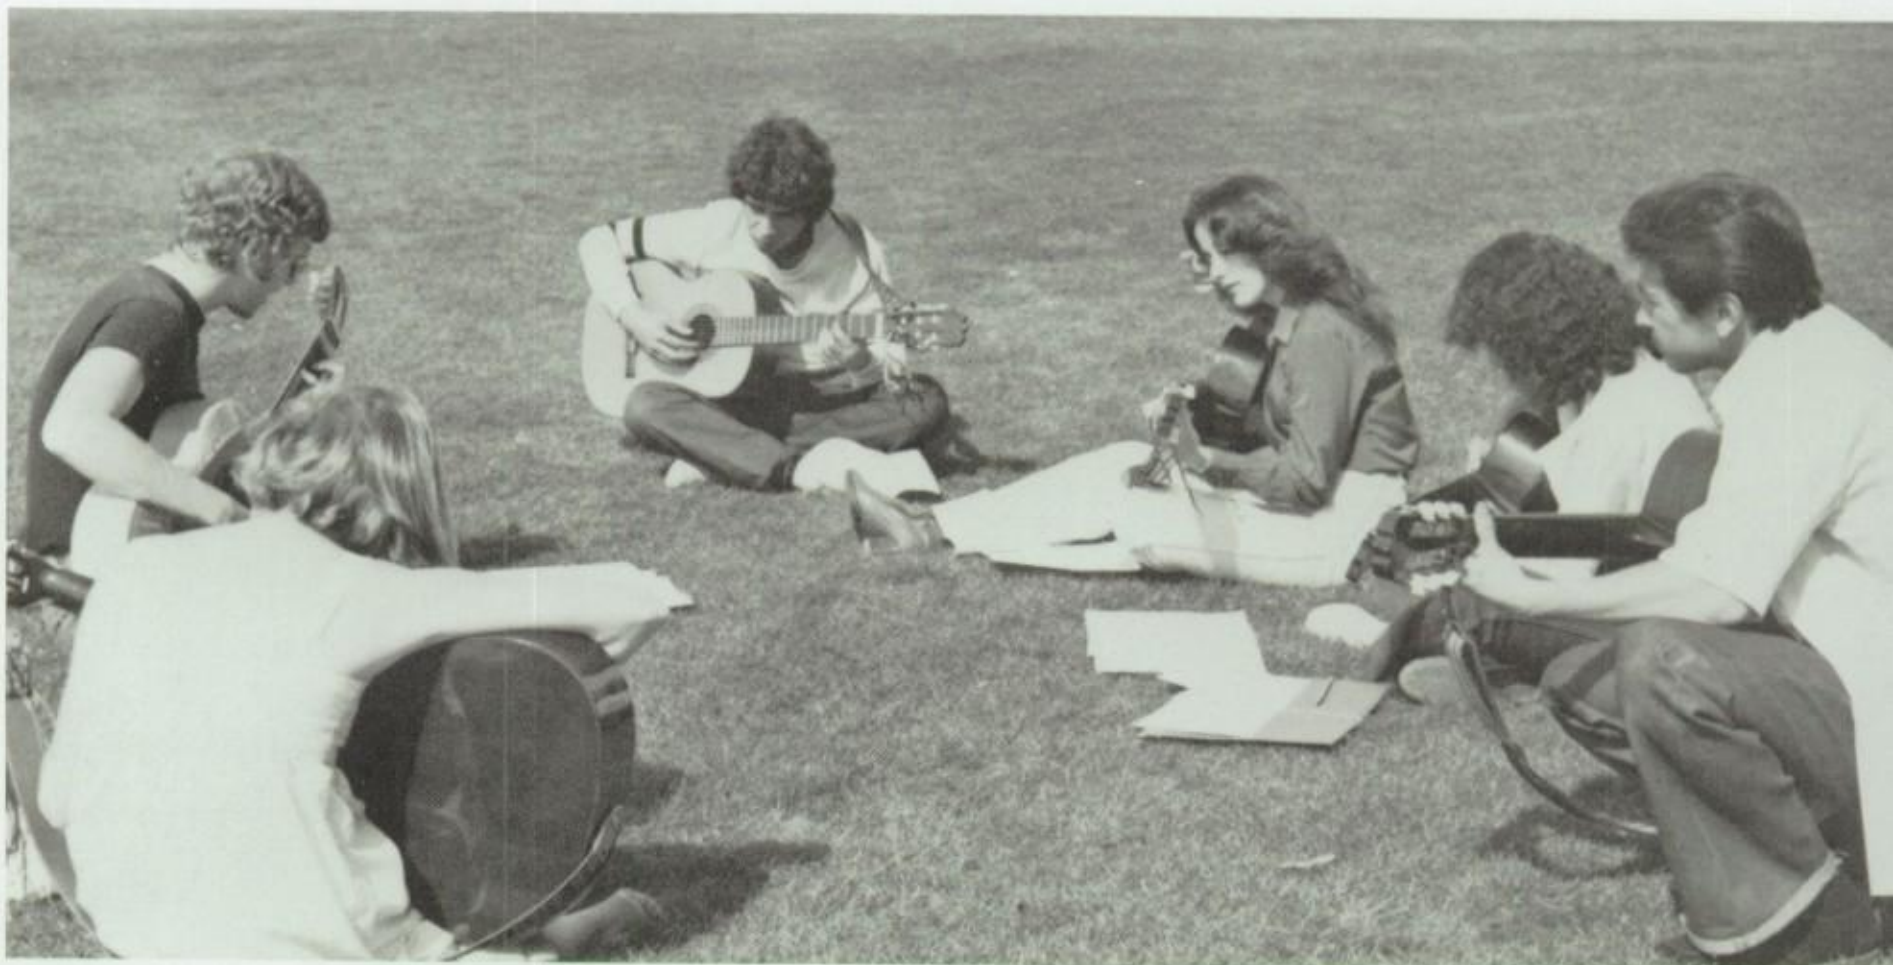

Since the Modern Language Club was a club they also made plans for fund raisers and activities. The money that was raised went for fieldtrips to places that contained objects from foreign places such as art, food, clothing, etc. . . .

Cindy Bass, and the other officers made the decisions on what the money would be used for in the future.

1. R.U.S.H. Members Enrique Martinez, Dan Mehlos, and Curtis Wilson see, speak, and hear no school work. 2. Pep club members enjoy a leisurely lunch. 3. Golden Girls converse in the senior hall about the upcoming wrestling match. 4. Ada Patron, Pan Asian club member, shows her spirit at a basketball game.

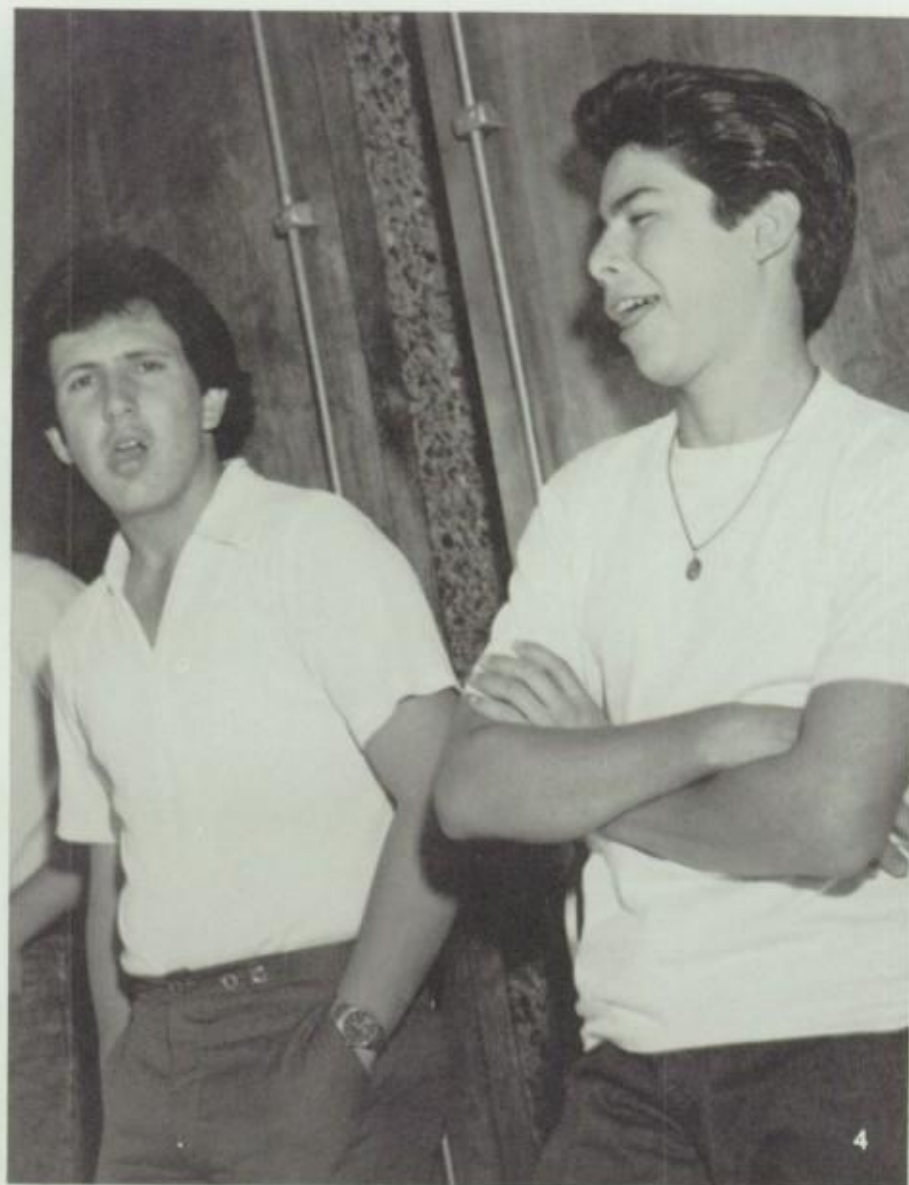

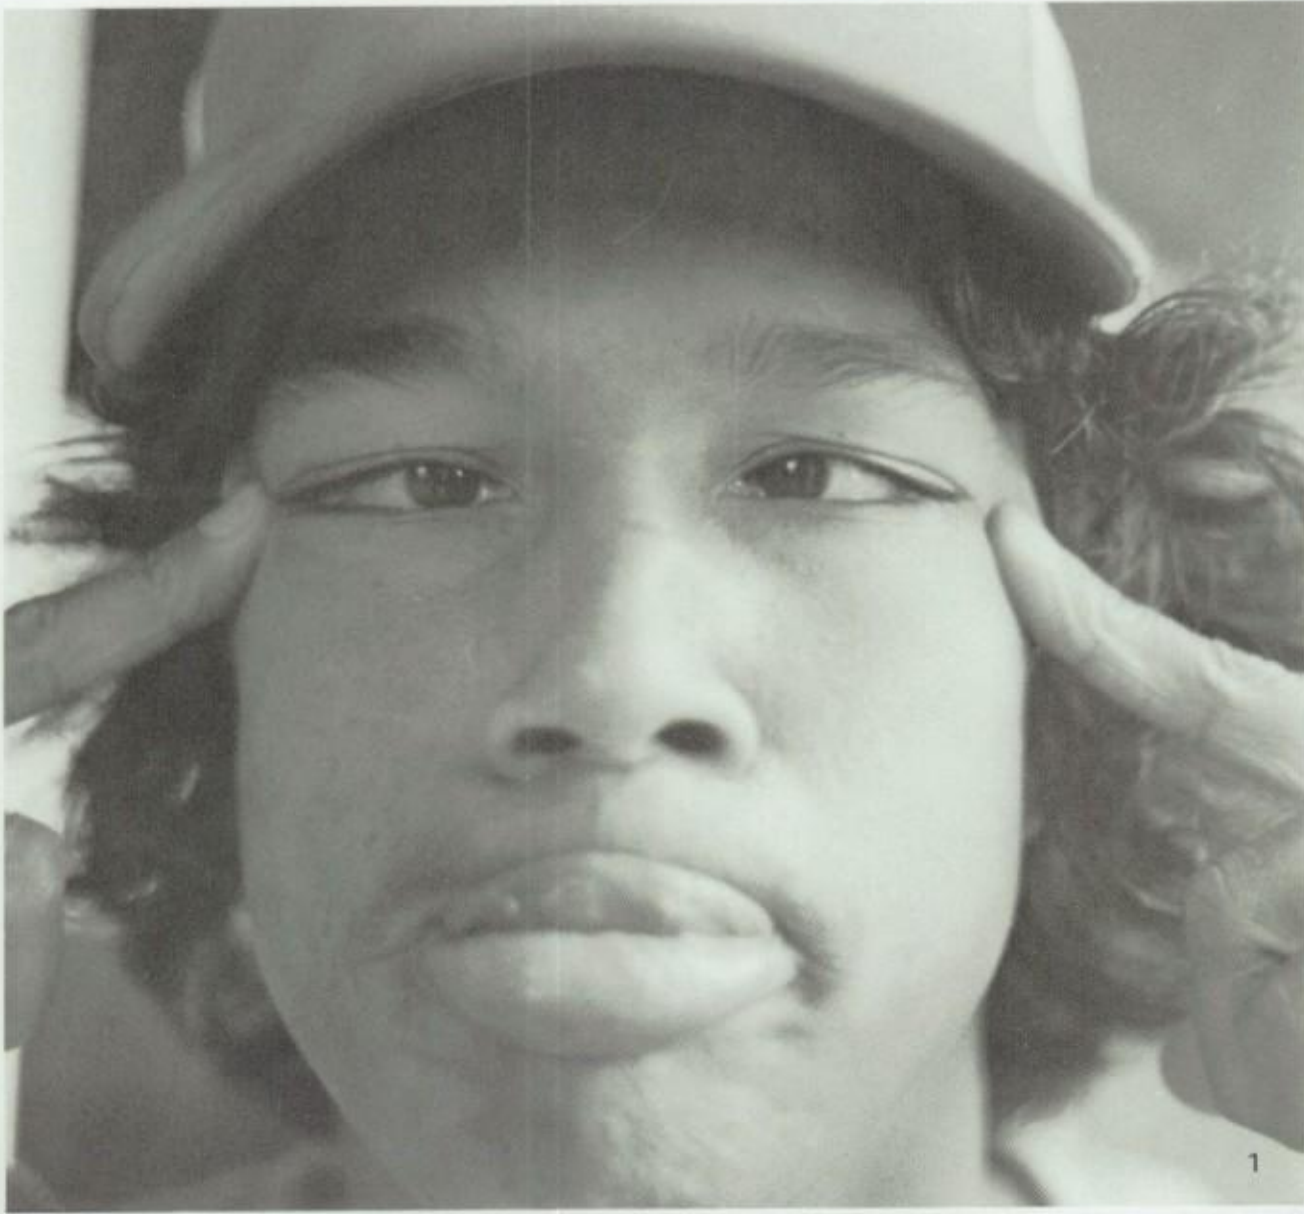

1. Members of the Estudiantina practice their numbers. 2. Mimosa Alvarez searches for an interesting book. 3. Kevin Colwell smiles shyly. 4. Bill Coker and John Reynoso act tough at lunch.

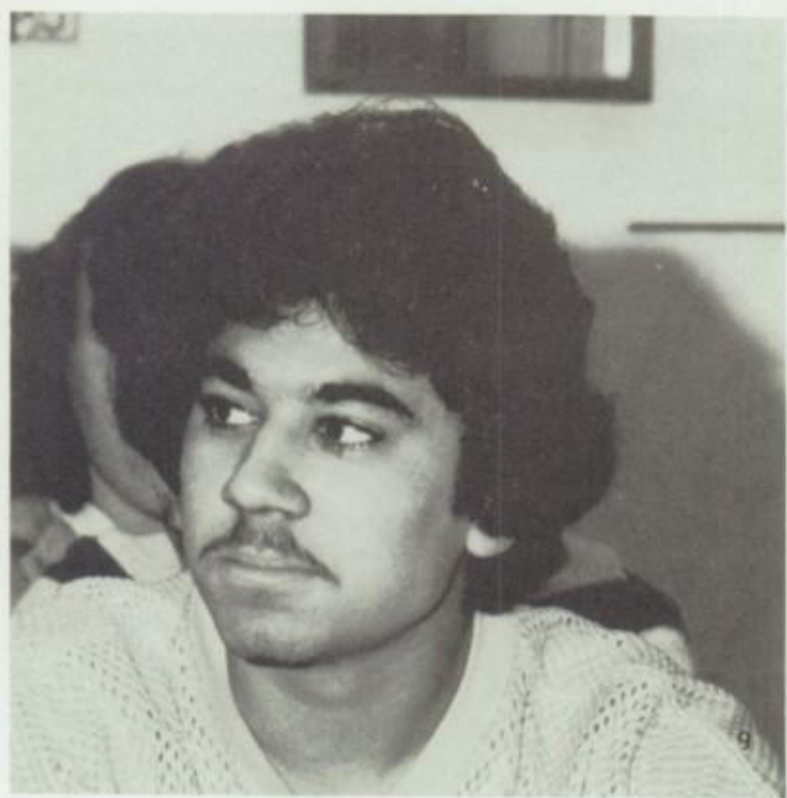

PEOPLE

1. Auggy Banogan is turning Japanese. 2. Ramon Saracho is on parade to 6th period. 3. Elsa Flores is wind-blown and fancy-free. 4. Dina Bleakney contemplates on the future and what is may hold. 5. Southwest's Dream Weavers

Southwest's faculty's main purpose is not only to teach the required curriculum to the students. These devoted teachers give a part of themselves to the students that can not be found in any book. They give to the students their love, time, and their personal experiences and dreams, so that in time the students may reach their own dreams in life. Whether their dreams be a certain career, position in life, or educational success, these instructors help to prepare the students for life. Southwest's faculty prepares the students for the misty pathways of life, which will eventually lead students to their dreams.

1. Mrs. Couch arouses the students curiosity by playing a mystical tune. 2. Mr. Ubovich carefully scans his notes for musical improvements. 3. Mr. Foster smiles confidently because he knows that his students are learning. 4. Mr. Rose makes sure that his students get all the help they need. 5. Mr. Silva shows that he can perform his new challenges to their fullest potential. 6. Halloween brings out the beast in Mr. Mellon. 7. Ms. Lindstrom finds time to clean out her purse. 8. Mr. Raue and Ms. Lindstrom walk the picket lines.

Time Brings Changes

The beginning of another school year brought numerous changes to Southwest. The addition of many new faces brought new challenges to be conquered by principal, Alan Sachrison. Faced with these new changes, Mr. Sachrison set out to solve the problems caused by the rise in the student body. Being able to handle situations with patience, intelligence, and a good sense of humor, Mr. Sachrison was able to keep Southwest running smoothly.

Another welcome sight was Assistant Principal Mary Ann Stro. Ms. Stro is well known for her famous ant jokes, but she will be most remembered and admired for her leadership, intelligence, and determination to improve the quality of education.

The changes in administration that have occurred have affected Mr. Bob Strahl, who is now an Assistant Principal, and Mr. Peter Treadwell, who is now Dean of Activities. New challenges, and goals lie ahead for these two men, but with their determination they should reap years of satisfaction.

1. Mr. Treadwell has a twinkle in his eyes. 2. Mr. Strahl, Mrs. Stro, and Mr. Treadwell. 3. Mr. Wavra strikes again.

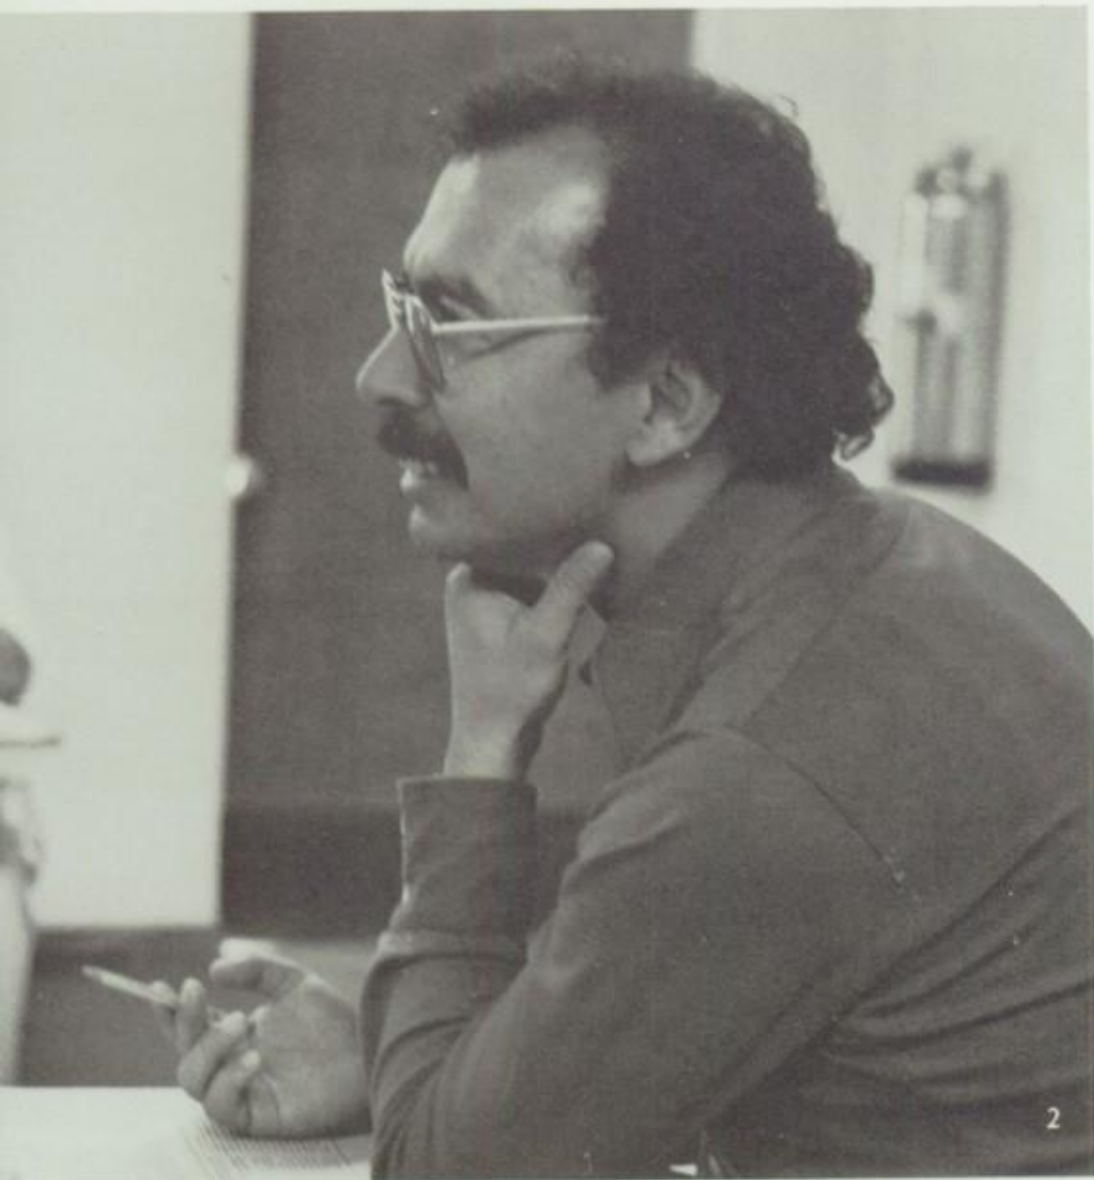

Changes Bring Confusion

With the coming and going of Southwest's counselors, it was hard to tell who was who. Though there was some confusion with all the changes, the quality of counseling remained the same.

Mr. Oscar Mercado, a long time counselor here, left Southwest to pursue further goals. However, we were not left in the dark. With the professional help offered by the remaining four counselors, Southwest continued to be aided by a superior group of counselors.

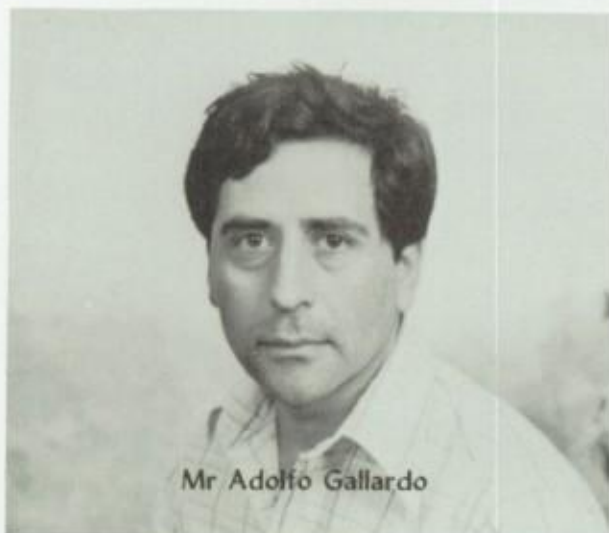

1. Career counselor, Mr. Wade, glows with confidence. 2. Mr. Silva discusses new ideas with his class. 3. Mrs. Stevens is surprised by our camera. 4. Mrs. Eilert is caught taking a well-deserved break. 5. Mr. Mercado is all dressed up and ready to go.

Language Arts Renders Inspirations

Victory Comes To Southwest . . .

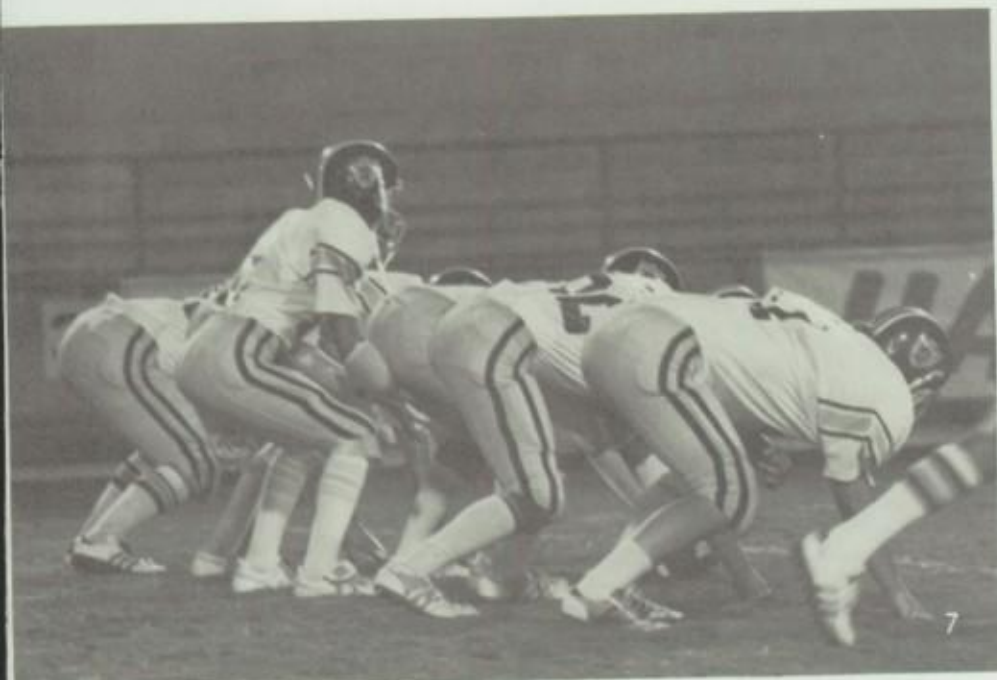

Teamwork, effort and pride proved to be the key to victory for the 1980 Varsity football season. The tremendous improvement of the defensive and offensive capabilities helped win the five games of the season, and placed Southwest fourth in the league. This year's team, consisting of twenty-eight players, was relatively small compared to the opposing teams. Despite this size difference they showed professional teamwork. Coach of the Year, Bob Arciaga, along with the other coaches were also determining factors of this year's success.

Southwest had one of the best defensive teams in the league. The Raider defense along with the offense upset Bonita Vista with a 9-7 victory. Teamwork also played an important role to the players. During a huddle, James Taylor was quoted as saying, "Unity is victory!" A few of the outstanding players of the season were Auggy Bano-gan (five interceptions setting a school record), Todd Christenson (defense), and Robert Meza (forty-three yard field goal against Bonita). An outstanding quarterback, John Haley, a transfer from Marian, did an excellent job at pulling the team together and making it work. The Raiders were very fortunate this year in having two memorable and outstanding players, Freddy Cordova and Don Kotas, make the All Metro football team, one of the firsts in Raiderville.

This year we were fortunate in having head coach, Bob Arciaga. Through his unforgettable enthusiasm and determination, his fine coaching has proved to be very effective. Bob Arciaga said that many coaches were very confident and optimistic about next year's team. A lot of people felt this year's victories were pure luck. Coach Arciaga feels differently, "We didn't do anything gimmicky or unusual, we just executed and played well." Picking up the nickname of the USC defense during the mid-60's, this football team has been acting wild, just like USC's WILD BUNCH.

There were many who deserved credit for this unforgettable season: the coaches who put it all together, Coaches John Boulough (running backs), Rick Rochmas (linebackers), Mike Gauger (defensive line) and Carl Par-rick (defensive coordinator). Bob Arciaga feels that they all deserve recognition. As for the closeness of the team, "With only twenty-eight players you can't help but get close. Without everyone we couldn't do as well as we did." Coach Arciaga feels that coaching has been a very rewarding and exciting experience. "The wild bunch are just fun loving, crazy guys. It's been a year of firsts, a lot of fun, but most of all something I'll never forget."

We're Coming Up!

The 1980-81 season proved to be one of the best on record for the Junior Varsity football team. With the help of the coaches, Mr. Boone and Mr. Gonzales, the JV team placed themselves in third place in a "tough league." Many new records were set in almost every defensive and offensive area. The defense of the JV team led by Jim Harvey and Billy Steers was one of the strongest parts of the team. Harvey led the team in tackles and Steers in QB sacks. They were just one of the factors of victory, as team effort also provided a strong foundation.

"This year's team took records in virtually every offensive and defensive area and showed promise of continuing the competitive tradition born only this year," said Coach Boone.

Volleyball Sets Up Another Winning Season

With fine coaching, spirit, and dedication, this year's varsity volleyball team did even better than expected. One of the people who helped the team the most was Heather Thompson. With her encouragement and the girls' skill the Raiders were victorious over Bonita Vista for the first time in Raider Volleyball history. Said Maricela Hernandez, "I think she's a fantastic coach. She helps everyone of us when we need it. Coach Thompson is also fun to talk to."

The 1980-81 Varsity team had a great season with a nine and nine record, because of their hard work, their "family" type attitude and the fine help Miss Thompson.

Coach Richards felt that this victorious season was due to the ability of the girls to take as well as comply with the suggestions he had to offer.

The year was exceptionally inspirational. The players were extremely devoted. "They try hard and just won't give up," stated Debbie Weaver. The players gave each other confidence making everybody a part of the team. For most of the players the highlight of the season was knowing that they had finished a match doing their best and had gained a victory.

Under the direction and supervision of Coach John Raue, Raiderville's own ambitious Varsity basketball team has proved once again that they have spirit, pride, and last but not least, personality. Making the most of their experience and ability, the team had a trying season but never lost their ambition or enthusiasm. The team members contributed much effort and hard work throughout the season. Although the season did not turn out as expected, the players showed good sportsmanship at each game.

The team provided an exciting first half and continued to fight throughout the rest of the game. With continuing rebounds, jump shots and free throws, the Raider team showed their athletic talent to the tension-filled crowd.

Many of the players, such as Albert Trujillo, Steve Beach, James Noel, John Haley, and Hans Heidepeter, had already been on the team this past year. Returning once more this year, they proved that they still have what it takes to be a good basketball player for the Raiders. Along with the new players they all pulled together to play an inspiring season and proved that the Raiders are still number one!

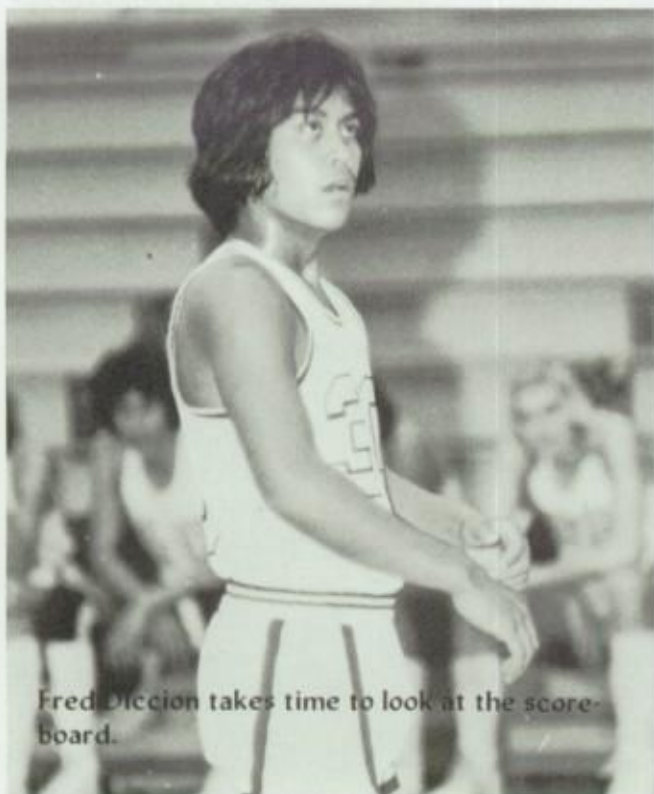

JV Prepares For The Future

During the 1980-81 basketball season, the JV team pulled many games out of the hold by executing many first effort plays. Under the leadership of Coach Ron Pietilla, the players were always eager to play and came through when the going got tough. Hard work, determined efforts and team spirit have characterized the players all season. By the end of the season, they held a record of 9-9. The team was especially strong on defense and is very anxious for next year's season to begin.

On offense, Oscar Campos and Co-captain Kevin Ludwig proved to be most outstanding. Both made an average of 14 points at each game. Co-captain Bobby DeAngelis and Glen Egger came through by playing spectacular defense with many grand plays and helped bring the team through many victories.

All the team members agreed that the highlight of the season was their win against Bonita Vista and Sweetwater. At Bonita, JV played strongly through the whole game and upset Bonita with a 47-44 score. But the Raider team still wasn't satisfied and waited for Sweetwater to come to their defeat with a fantastic win, making our last home game one of the best.

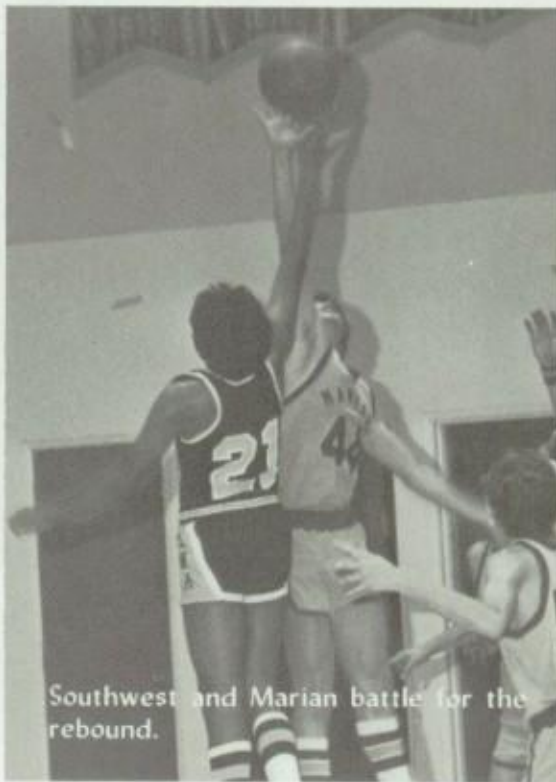

In conclusion, with the tremendous good coaching of Coach Pietilla, the team could be considered one of the best Southwest High has ever had.

Varsity Softball Swings In A Good Season

This year's Varsity Softball team consisted of many talented girls. Under the direction of Coach Steve Wavra, the team was able to make this one season the best in several years. When asked what he had thought about the team, Coach Wavra replied, "this year's team was the best I've coached, truly a great group of girls and good quality players. They got along with each other well, were good sports and represented Southwest High with true Raider Pride." The varsity team finished this year with a 8 wins-10 losses record, putting them in fifth place for Metro. The top four players this year were; Nancy Beldon-Senior, Julie Cartere-Sophomore, Terry Esquivel-Sophomore and Mandy Maurice-Freshmen.

J.V. Softball Fires-Up Another Season

The J.V. Softball team, under the guidance of Coach Lizarraga, had a trying but fair season. The team consisted of many determined and hard-working girls. They played their positions well and kept their spirits running high. Although the team record of 6 wins-12 losses was not exceptionally great, it was the backbone of experience for this rowdy Raider team. Most of the credit for the team's determination was due to three outstanding players; Marina Gouveia, Debbie Strange, and team captain Joni Lindsey. The team also gained assistance from Coach Susan Karpinski. Both of the J.V. coaches were new this year, but it was a benefit since there were new experiences to face.

This year's soccer team has made tremendous improvement. The undefeated soccer team ran over Marian, taking them into the C.I.F. playoffs. A lot of recognition goes to Mr. Silva for bringing out a very disciplined team. Not only coaching contributes to his effort but the dedication of the players promotes a rewarding finish. The daily practices proved to be very successful. Encouragement and altogether teamwork showed other schools that Raider determination to win could always go just beyond a dream.

Grapplers Show Form On Mats

It was another season of victories for Southwest's Varsity team. Under the guidance of Coaches Richards and Stone, the Raider wrestlers finished off the season with three wins and four losses. Nevertheless, the Varsity members were a spirited team. Their determination to win was the goal that they had set for themselves. The team agreed that one of their most competitive meets was their first Metro meet, against Sweetwater. The deciding match was won by Frank Romero, who pinned his opponent and led Southwest to a 29-28 victory. There were many other individual achievements during the season.

This brought forth much personal satisfaction to the members of the team.

The men behind the team were the coaches. They were the back-bone of the team's determination and physical endurance. Coach Richards helped the team members mainly on their "moves." Coach Stone worked mostly with assisting the team on their conditioning and weightlifting. These two coaches combined their knowledge in wrestling and the formats to make the Southwest wrestling team one of the best.

Southwest Swings Into Action

The Southwest High mens tennis team got off to a good start this year by defeating Castle Park in its first match. Even with only eight players, the team showed good form and stamina. The best doubles team was the Jeffries brothers John and Leo. Some of the best singles players were Kevin Ludwig, Jay Sisk, and Oscar Campos. The team was stronger in singles than it was in doubles. The coach of this years tennis team was Mr. Raue. He was well liked by the team. Says John Jeffries "If you have a coach that is dedicated and wants to win and improve the players then you must appreciate him." With an improving team the Raider tennis players are swingin their way to the top.

Track Sprints Through Outstanding Season

This year's Varsity Track Team, returning Co-Champs proved to hold their strong position. With the addition of new students to Southwest High, athletes were also gained. Over half of the team consisted of already experienced members, thus giving the track team more than a head start.

The center of attention seemed to focus on the 440 relay team consisting of four very important members: Albert Trujillo, Mike Burris, James Taylor, and Steve Evans. These are just to name a few of the whole team of enthusiastic Raiders. Despite the training and hard-work, team effort and unity played important roles. Coach Sills, Parrick and Hoover, having twice as many athletes to work with came out ahead in putting together a group of talented people as well as providing a rewarding experience never to be forgotten.

1. The Track team prepares for a group picture. 2. Tony Moreno comes to the end of another grueling race. 3. Raider athletes show their stamina during a grueling competition. 4. Hey, Don Kotas! You look like you could use a Gatorade. 5. Ver Dayrit uses every ounce of his strength to pole vault his way to a new goal.

J.V. And Girls Hurdles Another Season

The J.V. track team had an exceptional year, returning with an attitude of number one. Knowing that they pulled through exhibiting excellent sportsmanship and teamwork. The atmosphere surrounding the track team proved that once you make it to the top there no time to stop.

Members of the girls track team gave a strong contribution to the sport. With the girls specializing in certain areas of events helped maintain Southwest High's reputation as number one in track.

1. Anthony Canada flies through the air with the greatest of ease. 2. Pete Tejada awaits the signal to sprint. 3. Eager raiders wait for the starting signal. 4. Nora Crist and Beatriz Amador keep each other company. 5. Jeanne Browning exhibits endurance in the final stretch. 6. After another winning meet, Dorothy Endsley gives a tired smile. 7. Jason Driscoll pulls ahead with determination.

Varsity Basketball Jumps To Victory

This year the Raider Varsity Basketball team, and their coach, John Boone did an excellent job of holding the spirit high in Southwest's Raiderville. Team players put their best effort forward which made each game they played full of action. With all the team members acting as one, they were able to exceed the schools record of eighty points, over Castle Park High School. When asked who was the most inspirational player, the unanimous responses were Vicki Stovall, Stephanea Skelton, and Letty Garcia. These three girls helped hold the team's personality together. Even though some of the team members were injured, that factor did not stop the team from going against their opponent with full force. All in all this year turned out the way the team had expected. Even if they didn't win all their games, they knew that they were ready to play basketball and play it well.

1. Coach John Boone. 2. Vicki Stovall takes a deep breath before shooting for two points. 3. Pearly Caparaz distracts her opponent from receiving the ball. 4. Debbie Strange open for a pass. 5. Roxanne Liwanag takes guard on a MVH team member. 6. Letty Garcia: On the move again. 7. Felicia Oliver goes up for a jumpshot.

J.V. Basketball Bounces Into Action

The Girls J.V. Basketball Team started off the season exceptionally. The team really put an effort into each game, and their determination paid off. Coaching the J.V. team for his second year was coach Hart. He helped the team in improving skills and overall teamwork. This, and the teams spirit and enthusiasm really helped to pull them through.

First Row: Luz Pasqual, Ada Patron, Evelyn Sylvestre, Barbara Bacca, Evonne Webster

Row 1: Victor Villegas, Sergio Vasquez, Juan Persona, Joey Hasley, Dave Williams; Row 2: Ray Fountian, Marco Leyva, Curtis Wilson, Luciano Silva;

Row 3: Jesus Villa, Scott Smith, Robert Ramirez, Hans Heidepeter, Meza, Coach D. Gonzalez.

1. Hans Heidepeter stretches to full form. 2. Juan Persona has a good grip on the baseball. 3. Curtis Wilson alertly waits a steal. 4. Luciano Silva about to throw a mean one.

Varsity Steals Another Season

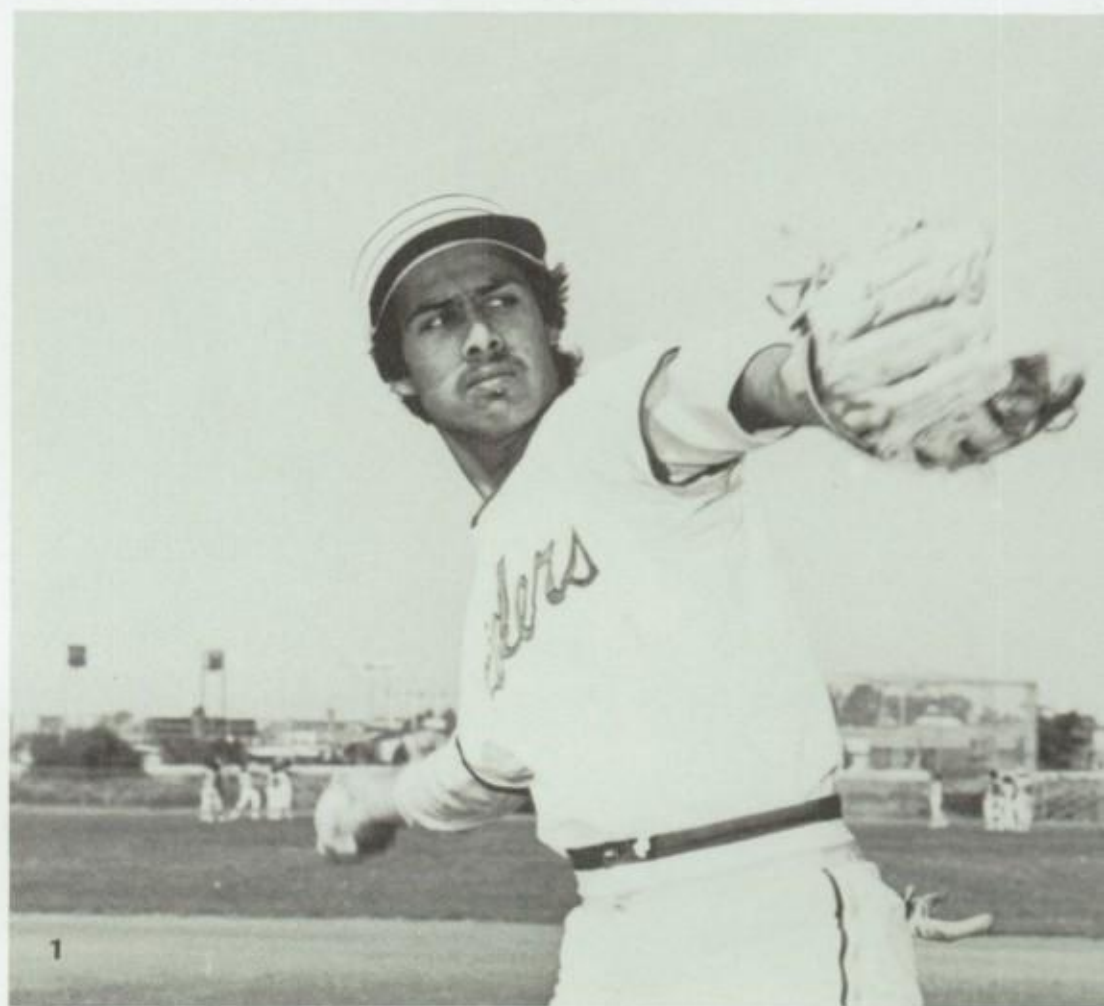

After three years of absence, the very first baseball coach Southwest High had, returned this year. Coach Dave Gonzalez came back this year to coach a very competitive team always reaching for a victory. Although luck wasn't always on their side, they fought hard and kept determination alive at all times. Luciano Silva and Juan Persona provided a strong defense as second baseman and shortstop respectively. The pitching staff consisted of Kerry Wood, Jesus Villa, Juan Persona, and Hans Heidepeter. The best friend of the pitcher is the catcher; and filling this position takes talent and ability of an agile player such as Scott Smith. In addition, everyone else gave it their best shot and the season was a stolen one.

JV Baseball Batters Up The Opposition

Coach Whitehead's mighty Raider Baseball team was loaded with talented athletes. Art Gunter, catcher, Rene Ruiz, pitcher, Rob Reynolds, pitcher, and Luis Covarrubias, first baseman, were just a few of the many outstanding athletes who greatly contributed to the team's performances. Returning members include Robert Boyd and Tim Brown, who in their right are great players.

These two juniors contribute their outstanding athletic abilities to make the 1980-81 Baseball team a powerhouse of talent. With Coach Whitehead's training, optimism, and enthusiasm, the Raider baseballers were ready to take charge. Without a doubt these super athletes will surely be the varsity of tomorrow.

Another Splashy Season For The Aqua-Raiders

Splashy scenes and an abundance of H₂O enhanced this year's team efforts in swimming and diving. Due to the exceptional training from Coach Walden, the team had improved and excelled in their many individual events. Co-team captains, Troy Ludwig and Patty Ebbs, helped motivate the team in their fine performances. Troy outdid himself by qualifying for CIF in his individual event.

Special recognition went to Jim Hine for his high-scoring dives, and to Krissy Walden for her fine contribution to the team. The overall feeling of the team was one of cordiality and high expectations. This year's swim organization had a lot of motivation and will continue in their efforts to improve our standings in this sport.

1. Spirits splash high as Michelle Thomas takes a dive. 2. Kellie McGhee performs a straight-reverse dive during practice. 3. Margie LePage knows that practice makes perfect. 4. Coach Walden looks on as his swimmers practice their strokes. 5. Lennie Buenaflor takes a quick breath before finishing off her practice lap. 6. Ursula Hymes looks questioningly up to Coach Walden for improvement before she prepares to swim.

To Marlene

My feelings for you are special + rare
it, was made for us to share...
We got together on the 15th
I felt a sparklike when I kissed your lips,
A love like this is hard to find
there's no-one else but you in mind,
You're so beautiful + in my heart
I honestly know we'll never part,
When I saw you, I nearly died
I noticed you saw me + only sighed,
But other than that you're perfect to me
+ that's the way we'll always be,
We're gonna love each-other for good there's no need to try, I know we could,
When I sleep you're in my dreams but it's so real as it may seem remember I love you Marlene... you will always be my queen,
Remember these are special words
+ pls remember "I'm glad you heard!"

Love Steve

I want to say thanks to a few people, Joe, for being there and loving me; Angel, for being my friend; and Mrs. Kieswetter for understanding me. Without you all, I probably wouldn't have survived the year. Love, Janie

Nacho Carrillo, It's been fun, and also boring at times, but I want you to know that as long as our friendship is close, it will always make me feel good. Just glad I'm your friend. Love Jackie

Todd, It's been quite a while since our last graduation together, remember? I know this is my last one, but you have one more to go. I hope our life changes for the better and all our dreams come true. I Love You, Rhonda.

Bill, I want you to know that you're the one "special someone" in my life. I can't tell you how much that means to me. Promise me that we'll always be together. I love you! Always Forever, Annette

Donna, Hi, remember me? The girl who couldn't get her mind off of a certain sailor, and that we just couldn't wait for this day, when it's finally here. We made it! Keep in touch. Thanks, friends Maria

LV & Shoylee & Liz: Thanks for being there when I needed to talk to someone. All of you are the best of friends I have, you're all like sisters to me. Keep in touch, God bless. Stephenia

To my friends, thanks for the memories: Oreo and the mouse: Remember Halloween, Seaport Village, and "munchout"? Alan: Hey cuz; where've you been?; Annette and Brenda: Did I have problems? Bless you both for your understanding. Hey 3rd year Spanish class, 1st period: Recuerdan Uds. los sapos venenosos? Buena suerte en tuyo vida; Mr. & Mrs. Brand Mom and Dad, I love ya both. Remember to clean the pool and feed the dogs (or vice versa); Peter, Wayne, and Darwin; Hey sweeties! Thanks for your smiles and for putting up with me; Les and Rod "Munchies", "Chippin" out in the A.S.B. my favorite song(s), Keith & David: Como esta el geometry? Ken, Rick, Photo Rats, Huh? Where's my picture?; Timmy my little surfer boy, watch those waves and make your toga a "King size" next time (remember, we're gonna share); Robert: Hey hubby, you forgot my wedding ring; Terry ... you're still gonna lose in raquetball (if you haven't already). Love ya all, Maria "Short Stuff" Santiago. P.S.-Don't forget to keep in touch this summer!

Nick, A message to say thanks for the encouragement you gave me, for being a friend, a lover, and especially being you. I wish you luck in every thing you do. Though we may fight, we still seem to manage. I love you, Lennie Cassie, I love you very much and I want to marry you, too. I hope we can stay together forever. You know I want you with me always. Love, your lovable hugable, snugable, squeezable boyfriend.

Good luck to the class of 1981 all of you make my job very enjoyable @#$%&! Treadwell

Kandi, Well we've shared some great times together and I'll never forget all those special moments, you've been really great Kandi, I wouldn't trade you for the world, I just hope that all of our plans and goals work out just the way we want them to. Loving you for eternity and a day, John

Patty, It has always been hard for me to put into words how much you've meant to me; and it will be even harder to find the words to say good-bye. Thanks for everything sis! God bless ... Lylas, Annette

Jimmy D: I've got to say "thanks" for all your support. The times when I felt all alone you came through for me and you're one special guy in my life. Never forget our special relationship and come to me if you ever need me. Your "Auntie" Gloria

Mickey, Just wanted you to know that I love you very much. If I had my way I would spend the rest of my life with you, because I love you and always will. Your loyal loving lovable lover, Les

Mr. Tudball, Mrs. Mondejar, Thanks for putting up with me all this time. I thank you for all the help and the time has come to say good-bye. I enjoyed very much working with you. You're two super people. Love Maria-Maria

Michelle, Life without you would be like a duck without a quack. It wouldn't be complete. I love you and always will. Chuck

Leti, So what's up. Ralf? Well we've all had lots of good times together, sure hope you wouldn't be lonely wout us. Just make sure you remember all the fun & dumb times. You better keep in touch and don't frick around unless we're around. Kathy & Roda

Denise, Hey bimbo! It's finally here, (graduation) what are we going to do? Well we'll just have to find out!! High School was super especially with you and the rest of the gang. We had good and bad times; but, I hope you always remember the good ones. Luv Malila

Hey Freeloaders, Time to say good-bye, but not for long that's for sure. We're gonna have to keep in touch and get together more often. Thanks for all the good times. You all are a great bunch of free-bees. Love Malila

Mousie, Always remember the three wonderful years (at times) we were in high school. Hey listen we go back a long time before that so we have to keep in touch O.K? Cuida a tu Mama y a la Yaya mucho. Love Malila

To Everyone in Annual Staff, Aren't you glad it's over? No more deadlines! Congratulations to the graduating seniors: Sheila Sindt, Lourdes Mosqueda, Rosa Enriquez, Cheryl LeBlanc, Elsa Flores. See everyone else next year. Have a great summer. Jim

Janie, Just one thing. Don't ever forget that slimy, greasy, long haired old man with bifocal glasses 3" thick, with saliva dripping from his mouth, who figured out all those stupid math formulas we could never figure out. Love Lourdes

Good times may come and go but memories and friends last forever

Dear John, I thought I'd take a few lines to thank you for all you've done for me. You've shown me who I really am and also the true meaning of love. You're the greatest and I love you with all my heart. Your girl, Kandi

Mary Narcisco, It's good to know that you're just as crazy as the rest of us. I

To my special friend Ursula, Thanks for all the rides that I mooched from you. You made my year special and filled it with laughter. I enjoyed all the games we went to and all the places we went afterwards, because you were there. Thank you for always caring enough to be there and listen to my problems when I needed to talk. Don't ever give up searching for who and what you truly want in life. It will come in its own

Felipe G: No sabes cuanto te quiero, a tu lado soy muy feliz. hemos tenido nuestros malos tiempos que no volveran a suceder yo se que podremos seguir adelante. Espero que en el futuro estemos juntos para siempre. Te quiero, Donna S.

Odette, Rosi: Thanks for all those WEIRD times you gave

Shoylee, "Short Stuff": You've become one of my closest friends and you're like a sister to me. Thanks for making my senior year a great one. Don't forget all our good times, goofy & Crazy! Oh! and the heartaches! Take care and remember our friendship always. Lylas Elvie

Kerry: The best thing about my sophomore year was being a part of your senior year. I'll treasure the great times we shared together and look forward to all the good times ahead of us. I'll miss you much, but love you always! Ericka

Dear Stephenia: I don't have a catchy song or poem to write to you. But I wanted to tell you "I love you" and what special things you've done for me. This is for you: Once upon a time there was a boy. He lived in world of his own. To him the world was full of wonder wishes and dreams. He pretended and dreamed of dreams impossible to mention. He wished on falling stars and four leaf clovers. He thought that love and laughter made the world go around. But as he grew, all of a sudden he found that the world wasn't made of palaces, kings, and magic rings. It was full of hurried and worried people that were run by rules, clocks, and promises. So he put away his childhood dreams and filled his day with busy things, leaving only sleepy nights for fantasies. Time passed in his world of gray. Until, one day a girl who happened to be passing through his life, took his hand. Then in that special moment his world became a magic place again filled with wonders, promises, and dreams, and his every childhood wish came true. The boy was me ... the girl was you! Forever yours, Everard

Eduardo: Estos son recuerdos dulces de nuestro pasado. Son recuerdos que hay entre nosotros y que nunca olvidaremos. Y como esos, aun habra mas. Espero que todo salga bien entre nosotros para que sigamos siendo tan felices como hoy. Yon como tu novia te deceo lo mejor del mundo. Hojala y encontremos dicha y felicidad algue dia, pero especialmente tu. Yo lo unico que te puedo decir es que: "te juro-que te amo" en serio y esa es mi verdad. Que dios te bendiga seiprem y que tambien bendiga nuestro amor. Y ese amor que de las fuerzas necesarias para eserarnos uno al otro. Yo te dedico estas cuantas palabras que bien de mi corazon para ti para que cuando las veas te acuerdes de mi. Son los sinceros deceos de tu novia que te ama de verdad, no te olvida, pero que te esperara hasta la eternidad. Tu Novia, Rosa Lopez

The one thing I'll remember most about my sophomore year was the "Reflection Staff," namely: Kerry, Holter, Ricky, Leyva, Marc, and all the other animals that made that class special. I'll miss you all ... good luck to all of you. Friends always, Ericka

Here's to everyone who made this year so special: Kerry, Val, Lennie, Joanne, Nick, John, and Reflections Staff. There's alot of great memories: the beach, sweethearts football games, newspaper staff, "gasing-up" Lennie's party, "February 2" and having fun. Thanks Ericka

I DO LOVE YOU STILL!

Best Wishes To The Class Of 81 From
The Annual Staff

Paul Hermosura '81 A.S.

Where would we be without hope?

1. Mary Melendez tenderly caresses Charlie Romero's cheek. 2. The tree, an everlasting symbol of life, stands by the harbor. 3. A never ending cascade of water brings lasting hope to all who see it. 4. Humberto Camacho tries for a slam dunk.

Without hope,
tomorrow is just another day.
The sun will rise, a day will pass,
then the moon will fill the sky.
Without hope, there is no promise in the future.

1. Adolfo Diaz helps Gustavo Contrares with some homework. 2. Looking at life through a stained glass window elicits memories of a happy childhood. 3. Ken Clark, a transfer from Hilltop enjoys a productive day in the sun. 4. The wonder of life expressed in a child's face is a beautiful sight to behold.

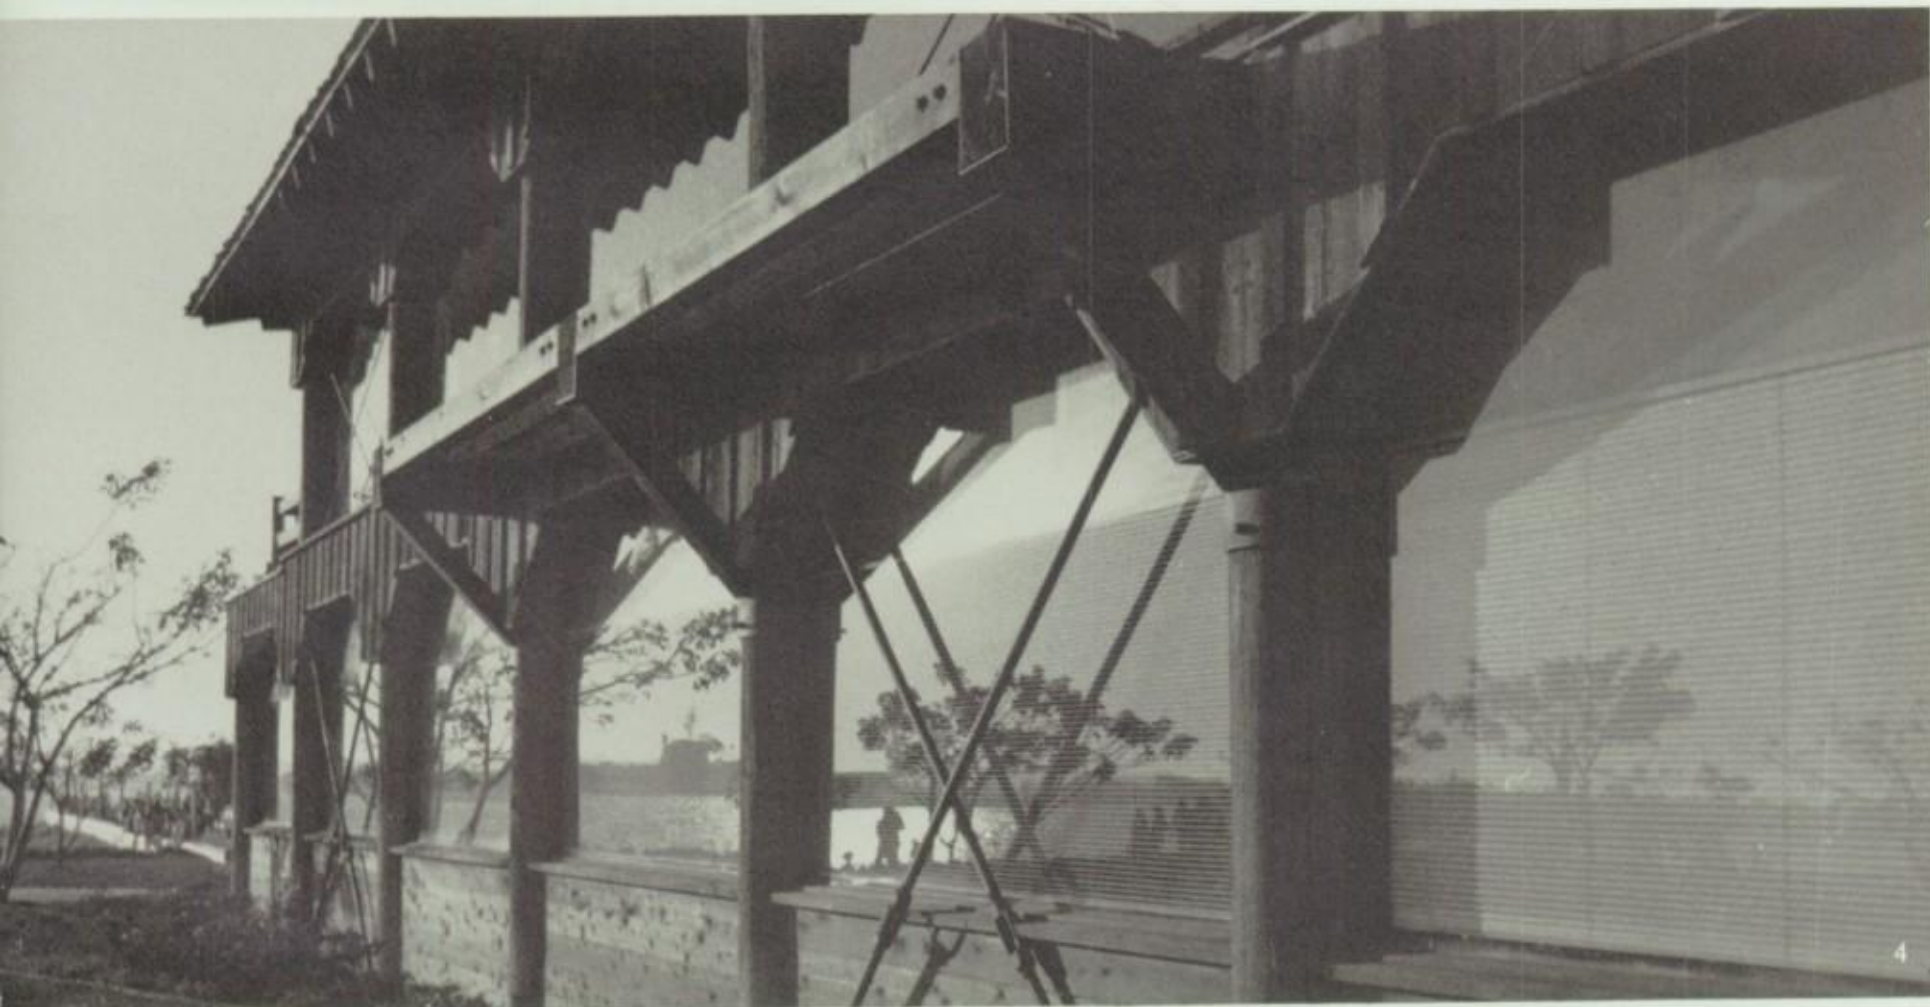

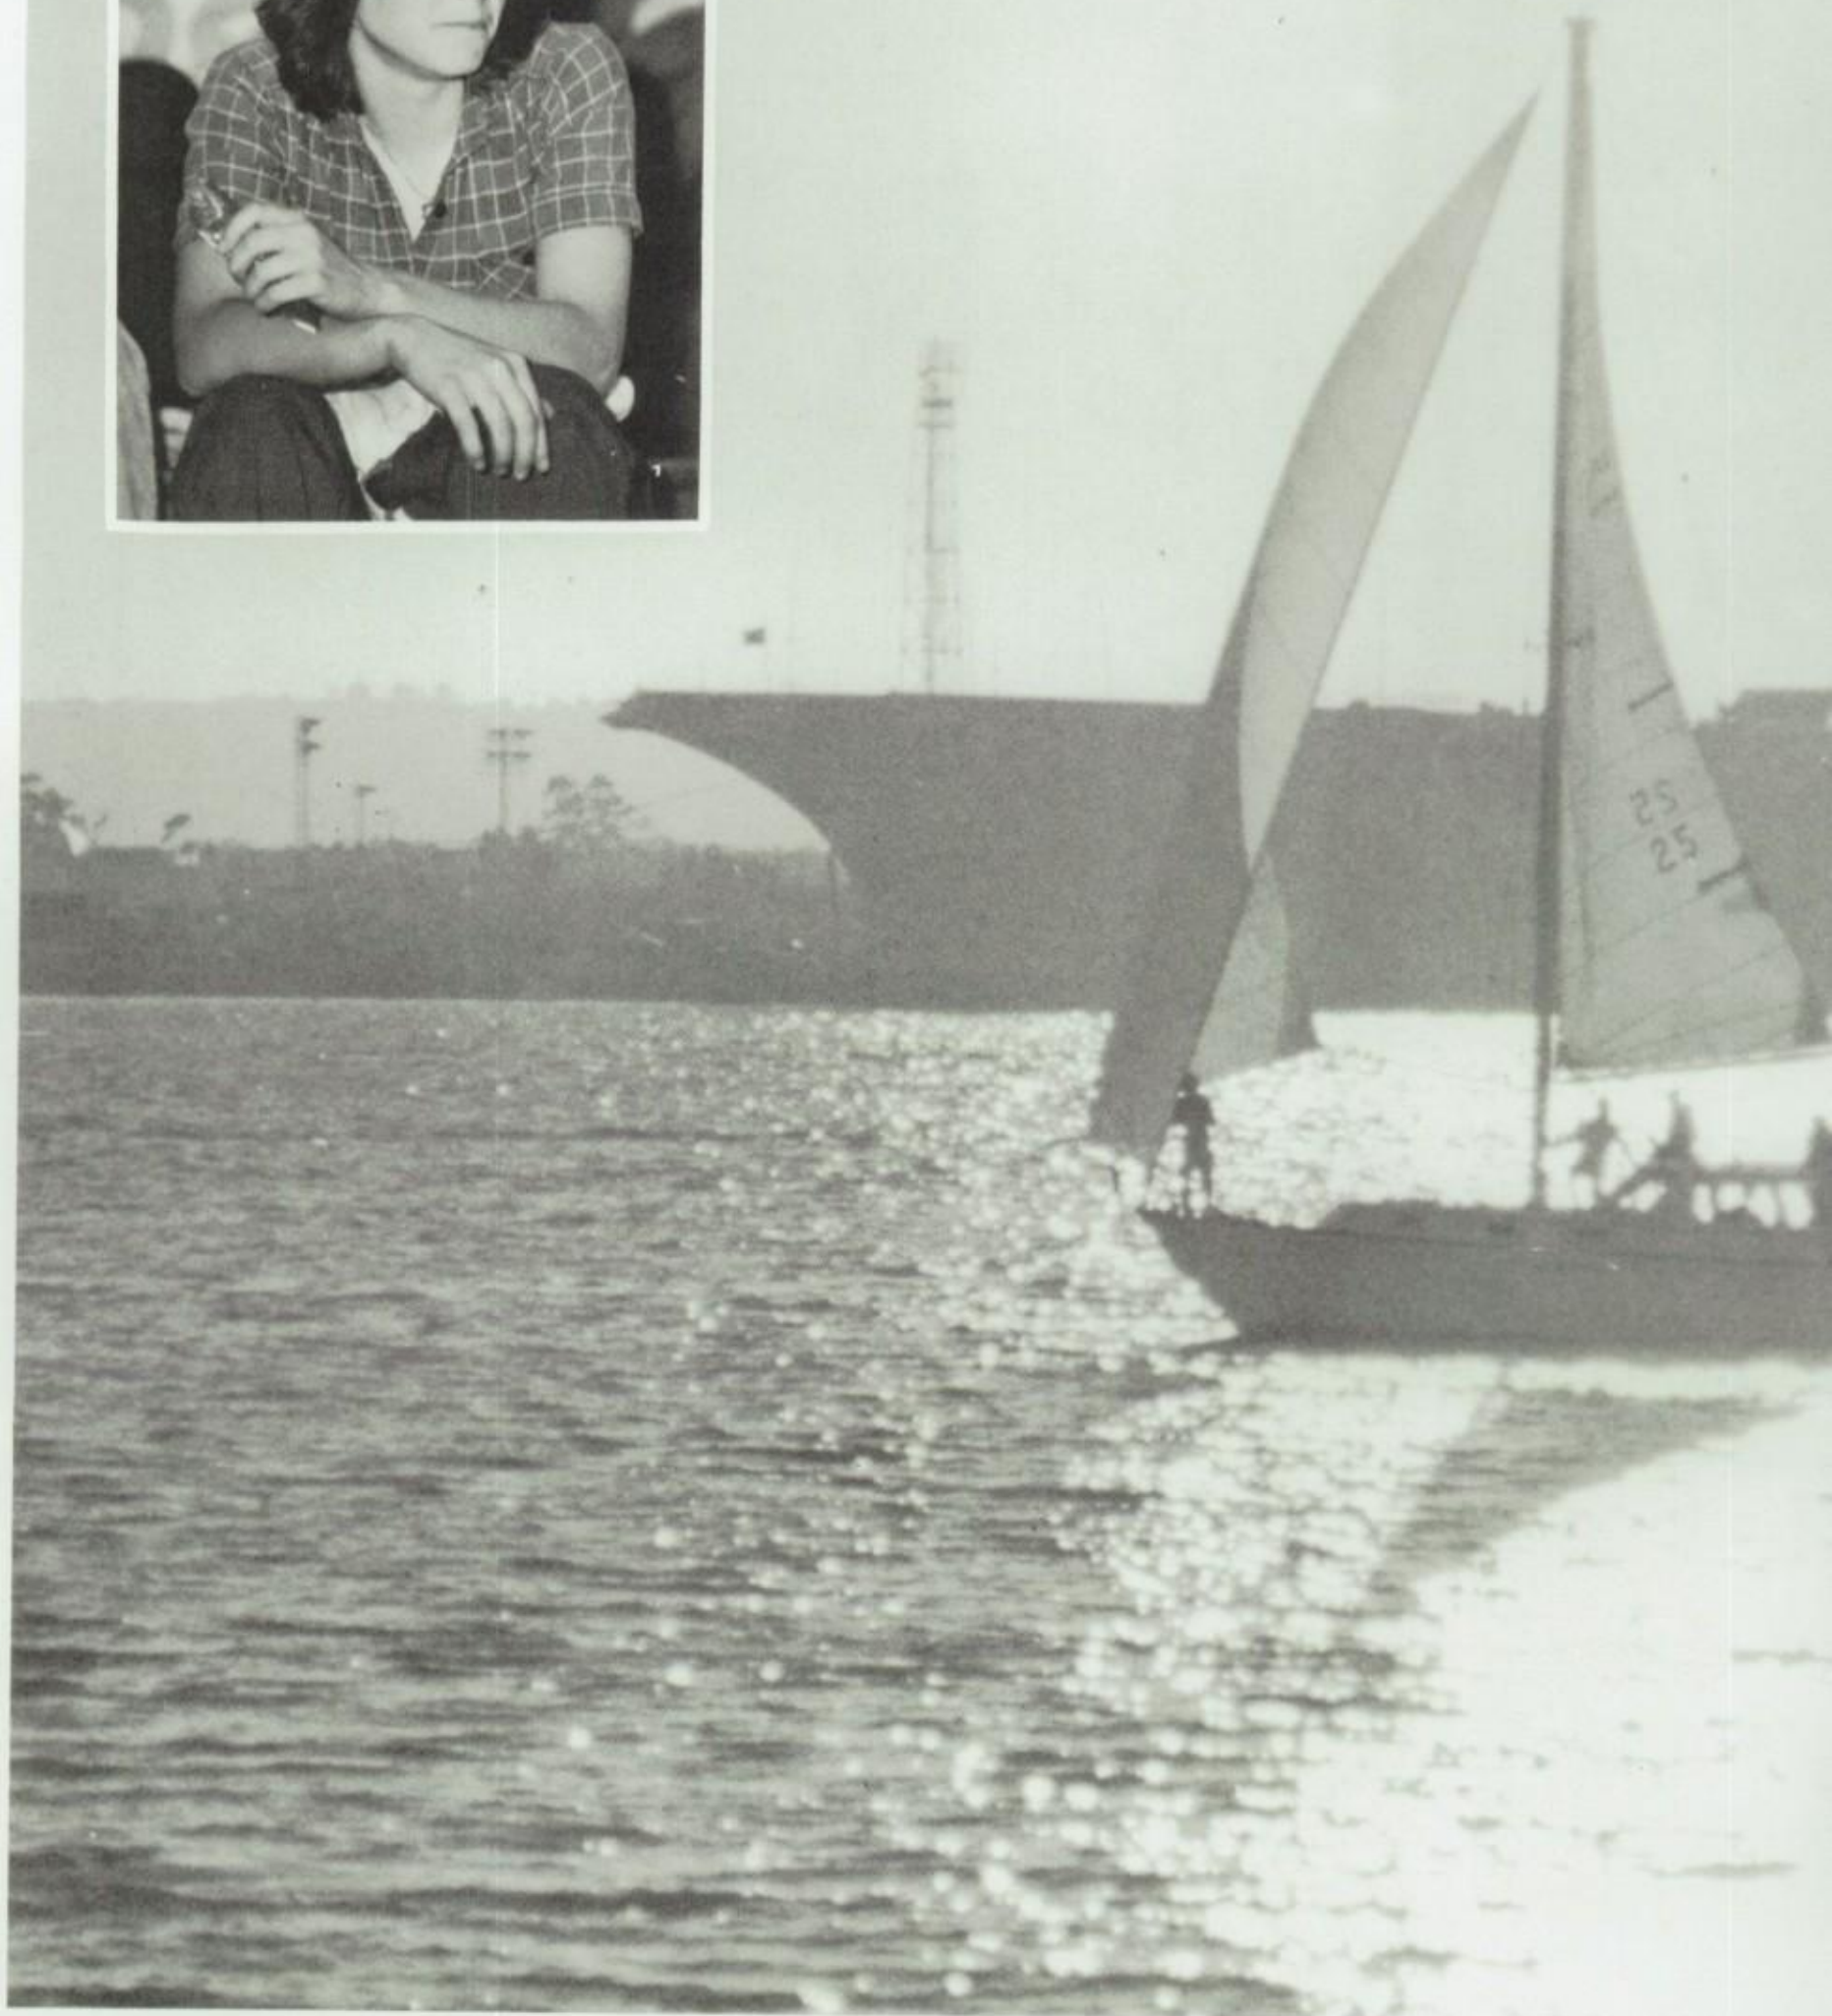

Realizing this, we learn to build our lives on dreams. Our high school years subsist on reveries of Homecoming Queens and sports teams, whether it is just to make the team, to win a meet, or to take a championship.

1. Miguel Reyes, Southwest High's mascot takes his job very seriously. 2. Senior lawn is a relaxing and pleasant atmosphere for studious students. 3. The beauty of growth is apparent in all of nature. 4. The windows of a closed shop reflect the setting sun.

And so, even though the essence of life may slip through our hands and we may fail, we'll start again, clinging to hopes, building on dreams, striving to become, to achieve, and to attain.

1. Joni Lindsey glances at her friends during a pep assembly. 2. A boy in Tiajuana tries to earn money selling bouquets to tourists. 3. Anna Gosselin is filled with spirit and enthusiasm. 4. Sailing on the bay provides an exhilaration akin to no other.

Acknowledgements

The production of the annual is often a long and tedious chore, but with the cooperation and support of the many persons involved it can be an enjoyable and learning experience. I hope that all the members of the Scimitar staff of 1980-81 feel that they can be proud of their work, for against often times insurmountable odds they managed to meet their deadlines with as little scrapes and bruises as possible. It is thus proudly that I acknowledge the annual staff of 1980-81 . . .

Sheila J.

We would also like to acknowledge Virginia Syverson and the newspaper photographers for their help throughout the year, as well as Marco Fuentes, Alfredo Martinez, Robert Hoyworth, and Tony Mirador.

I'll play the fool
building on dreams, hoping on hopes that may never come true.

Counting on rainbows
and wishing on stars,
I'll cling to these
as the others let go.

My life may mean nothing
but success will be mine;
I'll persevere, I'll try and I'll strive

And I'll be the fool
who held tight to my dreams,
who built on these things
and made them come true.
